CHANG'S ARMY RETIRING TO MANCHURIA

Southern Chinese Forces Expected Soon to Occupy Ancient City of Peking

Hold of Chang Tso-lin as Northern Chinese Dictator at Last Broken

Tokio, May 31.—Information reached Japanese military headquarters here to-day that Chang Tso-lin, Northern Chinese dictator, had decided to withdraw from Peking. In accordance with this resolve, a portion of the Northern troops were already proceeding to Mukden, Manchuria. It was stated, the Japanese military authorities expected the Nationalist (Southern Chinese) forces would occupy Peking very soon.

The opinion was expressed in well-informed circles in Tokyo that the Nationalist troops were not likely to penetrate north of the Great Wall. The only danger, therefore, would be the creation of disturbances by the demoralized and retreating forces.

Protective measures already have been undertaken and these are considered sufficient for the safety of foreigners.

A dispatch from Shanghai yesterday said:
Largely as a repercussion against the Japanese Government's policy in Northern China, all the Southern (Nationalist) military commanders were co-ordinating their efforts to carry out a fresh thrust in the direction of Peking. Under orders of the Nationalist commander-in-chief, Chiang Kai-shek, 150,000 Nationalists were moved north of the Yellow River. They were advancing along the Tientsin-Pukow railroad for the purpose of enveloping Manchuria and so threatening Tientsin to the north.

At the same time, 70,000 troops of Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang's forces were marching on the southern flank of the Nationalist forces at Kienfeng, seventy miles southwest of Peking. The Shansi army, south of Peking, on the Peking-Hankow railroad, received a notable accession of strength by the arrival of 50,000 Kwangsi Province troops from Hankow.

PRISONER IN DOCK FAINTS

Unusual Occurrence at Murder Trial in Cranbrook; Court Adjourns

Cranbrook, B.C., May 31.—An unusual occurrence halted the trial of James Sutherland here this morning when the accused, charged with having murdered Patrick Nicholson in a bunkhouse at Corbin on April 6, collapsed in the prisoner's dock while Mr. Justice Murphy was charging the jury.

Sutherland was carried from the courtroom unconscious, at first appearing to have been affected by a stroke. Medical attention was speedily given and the court adjourned until this afternoon.

The man's condition later was diagnosed as a severe fainting spell.

O'HALLORAN GETS OVATION

President Nanaimo Liberals Enthusiastically Received at Annual Meeting

(Special to The Times)
Duncan, May 31.—Confidence that Liberal principles and Liberal policies were suited to the social and economic and constitutional development of Canada, was the keynote last night of the most successful and enthusiastic gathering of Liberals ever held in the Nanaimo Federal riding.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, in her capacity as president of the British Columbia Liberal Association, gave an inspiring address, reviewing the contrast between the conditions prevailing in Canada under Liberal and Conservative regimes since Confederation.

The speaker showed that in the long period from 1867 to the present day, the great forward movement in Canadian development took place during the Liberal regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Signs were not lacking, she continued, that to-day gave promise that even greater development was in store for Canada, and the effect of Liberal policies on the economic life of

400 Japanese Fishermen Are Reported Missing

Tokio, May 31.—Newspaper dispatches from Sapporo say 400 fishermen are missing and believed drowned as the result of a great tidal wave which destroyed the fishing fleet of Sagami, on the northeast coast of the island of Hokkaido. Official confirmation of the dispatches is lacking. Hokkaido is the most northerly of the large islands of Japan.

MINISTERS TO INVADE NORTH

MacLean to Make First Northern Tour as Government Leader Immediately

Premier MacLean will leave here Saturday for his first tour of the North since he became head of the Provincial Government.

Accompanied by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, the Premier will visit Prince Rupert and inland points along the Canadian National Railway to deliver political addresses before returning here around the middle of June.

Attorney-General Manson also will go North shortly to tour his constituency of Omineca. He will speak in Smithers on June 8.

While political circles here and on the mainland are agitated by rumors of an early election, there has been no indication at the Parliament Buildings as to when a poll will be announced. The Premier is due here to-morrow after an interior tour, but whether he contemplates any election announcement before leaving again with Mr. Pattullo is not known.

FRASER RIVER LEVEL DROPS

Flood Conditions at Mission, Quesnel and Elsewhere Are Eased

Vancouver, May 31.—The Fraser River has passed the peak and has commenced to drop. At Mission this morning its height was twenty feet six inches above low water mark, which was a drop of two and one-half inches in twenty-four hours. Chilliwack reported practically no change in the height of the Fraser at Rosedale and there has been no damage and but little inconvenience in that district as a result of the high water. It was expected the Rosedale-Agassiz ferry would be running again this afternoon.

SOUTH AFRICANS FLY TWO FLAGS

New National Ensign and Union Jack Are Hoisted Side By Side

Cape Town, S. A., May 31 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The anniversary of the establishment of the Union of South Africa, May 31, 1910, when Cape Colony, Natal, the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies became provinces in the Union, was marked here to-day by the hoisting for the first time of the new national flag along with the Union Jack. All the principal towns in the Union were represented at the ceremony, which was held on the grounds of the Parliament Buildings.

The Earl of Athlone, Governor-General, addressed the gathering in congratulatory terms prior to the unfolding of the two flags, and addresses were made by Premier J. M. B. Hertzog and Lieut.-General Jan Christian Smuts, former Premier and present leader of the Opposition. The unfolding of the flag was accompanied by a salute of twenty-one guns.

The occasion was marked by the release of between 300 and 400 prisoners at Cape Town and Johannesburg, who had been sentenced to short terms, as was done when the Prince of Wales visited South Africa in 1925.

The flying of the new national flag and the Union Jack side by side ends a long-standing controversy in South Africa over the flag question.

Higher Fare Rumor Is Denied By B.C. Electric; City May Develop Power

With the authority of the City Council to represent Victoria, at the inter-municipal conference on the change in control of the British Columbia Electric Railway system, called by Mayor Louis D. Taylor at Vancouver, Acting Mayor P. R. Brown and H. S. Pringle, City Solicitor, will cross on to-night's boat to Vancouver.

In discussing the call to the conference to-day Acting Mayor Brown stated the city under its present agreement with the electric traction company had the right to abrogate the existing six-cent fare agreement at six months' notice, a right also open to the traction company. The city, in making the agreement, gave an undertaking to bring fares on street car routes.

Any effort to raise the rate for street car fare in Victoria, stated Acting Mayor Brown, would be met by a serious examination by the city of the possibility of creating light and power for its own use through utilization of the waterpower developments at the city watersheds, where a superabundance of water is available. Such a possibility had already been examined in prospect by the city through its engineers, and any change in the present position might lead to an active revival of that issue.

The city's delegates, in attending the Vancouver conference, were going with open minds, concluded Acting Mayor Brown, but also with their eyes open for the welfare of the citizens of Victoria first and last.

STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT
Vancouver, May 31.—"It is absolutely definite there will be no increase in street car fares or rates," it is stated by George Kidd, president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, in regard to reports that an increase in street car fares by the company was a possibility.

Mayor Louis D. Taylor, acting on the authority of the city council, has called a conference of the mayors and aldermen of the Lower Mainland and the Mayor of Victoria at the Vancouver City Hall, for to-morrow at 2:30 p.m. The meeting will discuss the position of the street railway company, in view of the new organization called the British Columbia Power Corporation Limited, which has taken over the B.C. Electric Railway Company. Mr. Kidd and W. G. Murrin, vice-president of the company, have stated they will attend the conference.

INSANE WIFE KILLS CHILDREN

Ontario Woman Strangles Son and Daughter, Then Telephones Police

Windsor, Ont., May 31.—Feeling mad, creeping upon her, she says, and convinced that she would be sent to an asylum, where her children could not accompany her, Mrs. Evangeline Montgomerie, twenty-eight, strangled her two children this afternoon and then telephoned the police to come and get her.

Mrs. Montgomerie said she had felt for some time she was going crazy and referred to see her children dead rather than be separated from them. Her husband was at work when she killed the children, a girl, Rita, five years old, and a boy, Donald, four.

Mrs. Montgomerie who is demented, had planned the action for some time apparently.

Four Men Aboard Monoplane Southern Cross, Who Left Oakland, California, This Morning, Are Bound for Honolulu on First Leg of 7,788-mile Flight They Hope Will Carry Them to Australia

Oakland, Cal., May 31.—The Oakland airport received a message from the monoplane Southern Cross at 1:20 p.m., saying the plane bound from Oakland for Honolulu was 425 miles out.

San Francisco, May 31.—A message from the monoplane Southern Cross received here shortly after noon said the machine, bound for Honolulu, was 240 miles southwest of the San Francisco lightship at noon. The message said it was getting cloudy. The speed was given as "seventy-three knots."

SIGHTED BY SHIP
San Francisco, May 31.—J. H. Hadley, an amateur radio operator here, picked up a message from an unidentified steamship at 11:40 a.m. which gave its position at 238 miles west of San Francisco, saying the monoplane Southern Cross had just passed over it and was "going good." The ship's radio message was addressed to another ship.

San Francisco, May 31.—At 10:57 this forenoon the monoplane Southern Cross, en route to Honolulu from Oakland, California, with a crew of four men, was heard querying the San Francisco Examiner radio station for test signals. The Associated Press received a message from the Southern Cross at 10:20 a.m. saying: "Altitude two thousand feet; everything O.K."

The Radio Corporation of America received a message from the Southern Cross at 9:30 a.m. saying radio generator trouble which developed shortly after the monoplane had taken off from Oakland, had been fixed. The Radio Corporation said the message from the Southern Cross came through "clear as a bell."

THE START
Oakland, Cal., May 31.—The monoplane Southern Cross hopped off from the Municipal Airport here at 8:31 a.m. to-day, cleared the field to gain altitude and started toward the Golden Gate towards Honolulu.

The tri-motored Fokker monoplane carried a crew of two Australians and two United States fliers. They are Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, commander; Captain C. T. P. Ulm, copilot; James Warner radio operator, and Lieut. Harry Lyon, navigator. Warner and Lyon are United States citizens.

The big plane bounced and careened down the runway at the take-off. (Concluded on page 7)

Conditions on Prairies More Favorable; Surplus Being Absorbed

Prospects for British Columbia's berry crop in the prairie markets of Canada this year have improved greatly in the last few days, as a result of changes in the fruit situation in the United States, according to information just received by the Department of Agriculture.

With large surplus of supplies of strawberries absorbed for the most part in Oregon and Washington, and with the Missouri berry crop so advanced that it should be almost out of the way when the B.C. berries reach the prairies, growers believe now that they will command a pretty clear field when they are ready to ship shortly.

Conditions on the prairie markets appear very satisfactory now from the standpoint of B.C. shipments, according to a report from J. A. Grant, B.C. Market Commissioner, to Hon. E. D. Barrett, Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Grant's survey of the situation leads him to believe that the B.C. growers need not fear the competition of any large quantities of United States berries dumped on the prairie market, following the recent improvement of the situation in the United States.

This information was regarded at the Department of Agriculture as extremely reassuring. Meanwhile, according to Ottawa advices, Federal dumping duty machinery will be available should dumping of United States berries threaten to demoralize the prairie markets.

Captain Payne will complete arrangements for the docking of the ferry at the Evans, Coleman and Evans pier in the Inner Harbor and for a ticket office.

The new ferry steamer, now known as the Evans, is scheduled to arrive in Seattle in a few days from Baltimore where she has been in service. Upon arrival in the Sound she will be renamed the City of Victoria, in compliment to this city. She will be cleaned and painted at a Seattle yard in preparation for starting the first schedule between Victoria and Edmonds.

THE SEA OTTER

Its Home, Haunts, Habits and Value
By JAMES SLOMAN

In writing a short history of the sea-otter (the name is Quat-luk in Indian) I do not suppose there is any animal of note or value in the world of which less has been said, less written about, or less understood or known than the now scarce and rare animal, the sea-otter, not valued for its beauty or pedigree, or for its meat, but for its fur only.

Stories have been told and written, however, but not to any extent, and only but a very few know anything of its home, haunts, habits or value, or even if they saw one "would know what it was."

About the first authentic history we have of the sea-otter on the Pacific Coast dates back to the early days of Captain Cook and Vancouver, but as both of these illustrious officers and navigators were in Britain's Royal

TORONTO NEWSPAPER BUILDS IMPRESSIVE MODERN PLANT

Star Presses Will Print 180,000 Huge Papers Per Hour—Canada's First Newspaper Skyscraper—Ready by Christmas

100 COLUMNS OF WORLD NEWS DAILY BY WIRE
And Staff of Seventy-Five Reporters to Gather Local News—Trucks Line Up Sixteen at Time

The twenty-two storey newspaper plant and office sky-scraper now being built by The Toronto Star, whose grateful subscribers will look down on the heart of the city's financial and business section. It will contain nearly double the floor space of Toronto's next largest office building.

A new era in newspaper publishing in Canada is marked by the magnificent new plant and premises of The Daily and Weekly Star in Toronto, now rising against the Queen City's downtown sky line.

Three years ago there was no newspaper building in the dominion even remotely comparable with the palatial homes of a dozen metropolitan dailies in the United States. Then, in rapid succession, the Montreal Gazette, Vancouver Province, Winnipeg Free Press and other Canadian papers blazoned forth into fine new quarters.

And now The Toronto Star is added to the list with a building which in beauty and impressiveness and in the completeness and modernness of its equipment will hold its own with anything in the world. Overshadowing the business and financial section, with a frontage of 170 feet on the city's main east and west thoroughfare, King St., between Bay and York, The Star building will extend 188 feet northward, or the depth of a whole city block; will rise 22 storeys to a height of 221 feet from foundation, and will contain almost twice as much floor space as Toronto's next largest office building. A lane 13 feet wide will extend along one side of the building and a 105 foot frontage adjoining the west end of the building, remains unoccupied for future use.

Granite and Limestone
The first six floors will cover the ground floor area, and will have a substructure of reinforced concrete. Above this lower part will rise a tower of graceful and imposing outlines, 96 feet wide and 65 feet deep, supported by structural steel. The exterior of the building will be clad to the third floor windows in solid gray Stanstead granite, and above that, on all four sides, in beautiful Indiana limestone.

The lofty entrance lobby is to be lined throughout with polished marble, with entrance and elevator doors in bronze.

Perhaps the most fascinating feature for the public will be the tremendous battery of presses, visible from a gallery that looks down on the great press room, 168 by 80 feet. Presses will be the heaviest and fastest yet designed. Their 28 units will print 150,000 fifty-six page papers in one hour with an ultimate capacity of 200,000 per hour.

Not with me at this writing the complete returns of the world's fur sales, but I have before me the sales reports of C. M. Lamson & Co., London, England, which is one of the largest firms in the world handling all kinds of fur, and their 1925 list shows only thirty year 1787 a Captain Meares started trading with the Indians at Nootka, on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, and where the writer was the sole white man trading and dealing in furs with the Indians from 1801 to 1805.

It is evident that Captain Meares found not only the sea-otter, but other furs such as bear, otter (land), marten, mink, beaver and wolf, etc., a very profitable enterprise in taking the pelts of the animals mentioned across to China, and later reshipped to other parts of the world.

But I am drifting away from the object of my story, "The Sea-otter."

The home of the sea-otter in those days were almost anywhere along the coasts of the North Pacific ocean, from the far northern shores of Alaska, the British Columbia coast, and as far south as California, and when the west to the Siberian and Japanese coasts and the Commander's Islands, and to-day all those coasts are sadly depleted, and where there were formerly thousands but dozens remain.

Its haunts, however, are chiefly along the coasts already spoken of, and chiefly where the coast line is broken up, and numerous islands, rocky headlands and points and help beds abound.

Although the sea-otter is an extremely shy animal and hard to take, the haunts of the animal are still scanned during the Summer months by the hunter, both white and Indian, and it becomes the victim of the high-powered rifle, aided by field glasses, and other means of destruction; for one pelt alone is a good month's salary for any one hunter, or two or three.

HABITS OF SEA OTTER
The habits of the sea-otter vary but little with those of his nearest relative, the sea-lion (weighing a ton when full grown), the fur seal and the hair seal. The food of all these amphibious creatures are products of the sea, but both the sea-otter and the hair seal frequent the shores more and feed on the many kinds of shell fish such as crabs, clams and mussels, etc., and the sea-lion and fur seal confining themselves to deeper waters and depend upon such fish as salmon, cod, whiting and herring for food.

There is an impression by some scientists that the sea-otter was once a land animal, and the two front paws or arms in the place of flippers partly support that theory, whereas all of the other animals referred to have four distinct flippers, two in front and two behind which enable them to travel through the water at a terrific speed, and fast enough to catch almost any fish.

There is no knowing, however, how fast the sea-otter does travel, but I believe he is just as swift as his cousins, and not only is he a good swimmer, but a splendid diver, for when he dives he is liable to appear on the surface half a mile away in a minute or so.

It would take up too much time and space to describe the manner in which he is hunted by the Indians and others in this article. That can be done in another story dealing with the sea-otter, and his near relatives who inhabit the Pacific Ocean.

VALUE OF SKINS
The number of sea-otter skins marketed each year are very few. I have price, and no demand would mean a slump in prices.

In former years, or at least in the very early days, a prime sea-otter could be bought for a keg of molasses or an old musket and a few nails or a few colored beads thrown in for weight.

In 1902 while trading with the Indians at Nootka for furs some Kit-katlah Indians with their canoes were hunting the sea-otter near Bajo reefs, Nootka Island, and after a couple of weeks' hunting secured eight pelts.

After bargaining with them for a couple of days they refused the offer and started for home with the intention of taking them to Vancouver to get a better price.

While going down to Vancouver on an old wooden steamer, she caught fire and the eight sea-otter went up in smoke, much to the disgust of the poor Indians—a small fortune lost!

LESS IN NUMBERS
There is, however, a sad feature pertaining to the sea-otter, and that is the gradual decrease of the animal year by year, and nothing short of the total prohibition of the killing and taking of same by the subjects of Great Britain, United States, Russia and Japan will permit the sea-otter to survive the continued onslaught for the destruction and elimination of the animal.

It would be a tragedy and an everlasting disgrace to the peoples of those countries, and a law should be enacted making it illegal to take, kill or destroy the sea-otter by any subject of the four countries mentioned, and also make it illegal to buy, sell, trade or barter any skin or part of a skin of the sea-otter, unless legally obtained, and that would be at least one step towards the preservation of one of the most beautiful, graceful and valuable of God's creatures that ever swam the waters of the North Pacific ocean.

"So Barbara regrets having married that Scotch fellow. How's he treating her?"

"Very reluctantly, she says."

NATURALIZATION BILL IS REJECTED

Senate Shelves Measure
Passed Recently By House

Ottawa, May 31.—The Government bill to amend the Naturalization Act was killed in the Senate yesterday. The bill would have placed authority for the granting of naturalization certificates in the hands of the Secretary of State without it being necessary for the applicants to make prior application to the courts, as now required. The bill was debated at length in the Commons.

It was discussed by the Senate yesterday in committee of the whole. Eventually Senator H. W. Laird, Conservative, Saskatchewan, moved the committee rise. This was carried by thirty-eight to twenty. The effect was to kill the bill.

BOMB SET OFF IN MEXICO CITY

Mexico City, May 31.—A bomb exploded at the presidential campaign headquarters of Alvaro Obregon here last evening. There were no casualties and only slight damage.

The explosion occurred in a room empty of people, although the building itself in other parts was crowded. Police immediately placed heavy guards about the doors of the building and would not let anyone leave.

DISCUSS SALARIES OF AGRICULTURISTS

Government Experts Not Receiving High Enough Pay,
Says G. G. Coote, M.P.

Ottawa, May 31.—A motion to go into supply in the House of Commons yesterday prompted G. G. Coote, U.F.A. Member, to state his view that salaries paid to men in the scientific and technical positions of the Department of Agriculture were inadequate.

Mr. Coote declared the department was losing the professional men because of the low salaries paid. He gave a comparison between salaries paid in the United States service and in the Canadian service to illustrate the fact that Canada paid much less than the United States. The professional service of Canada, said Mr. Coote, must compete with that of the United States to take post-graduate university courses. Frequently they remained there because of the fact that they could obtain more money in that country.

Mr. Coote compared salaries paid in the cereal division of the Department of Agriculture with those paid in the geological survey. The figures he quoted showed the salaries in the cereal division were lower. Canada could not afford to lose her scientific agricultural men, he said. Agriculture was Canada's basic industry and wheat growing was its most important phase.

DECLARED IMPORTANT
J. S. Steedman, Liberal-Progressive, Souris, Man., declared the question of salaries paid to scientific agricultural men was one of the most important matters which had come before the House this session. It should be realized that the prosperity of Canada depended largely on its agriculture, yet the ravages of disease were spreading in certain quarters of agricultural Canada and it was of prime importance to the Dominion as a whole that adequate salaries be paid the scientific agricultural officials so their research efforts could be used for the benefit of agriculture in this country.

Mrs. Mary Juston of this city, in a letter just received, says: "Being a user of your valuable Pacific Milk, I am writing you as to its value to me. I use it for all purposes, such as cooking, in salads and also for our cereals. I have two children who prefer it to fresh milk and I am glad of that, for Pacific Milk is a much better milk when diluted than most of the fresh, and besides, I find your milk is much more economical."

SENATE AMENDS SEDITION BILL

Ottawa, May 31.—The bill to amend the Immigration Act was passed by the Senate yesterday without a division.

The bill, when it reached the Senate, proposed to eliminate section 41 of the Immigration Act. Under the section a British subject born outside of Canada, but who had become a resident of this country could be deported for seditious practices without a trial.

The Senate eliminated that section, but substituted in its place the section on the same subject which was in the act of 1910, which removed the separate provision affecting British subjects in Canada. And as the act now stands no British subject born outside of Canada and a resident in Canada for five years can be deported for sedition or like offence.

Larkin Says M.P. Was Welcomed At Canada House

London, May 31 (Canadian Press Cable)—Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, was loath to express any opinion to the Canadian Press to-day on the criticism voiced by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative M.P. for Centre Vancouver, in the Canadian House of Commons yesterday regarding what he termed "stunkism" in Canada House here. "As for Mr. Stevens's call at Canada House," Mr. Larkin said, "Mr. Stevens was shown every courtesy. Lucien Fauchard, secretary, had gone to lunch. Mr. Stevens called without notice, but had Mr. Fauchard known he was calling he would have gone without his lunch."

Mr. Larkin declined to say anything at all about Mr. Stevens's remark in the House at Ottawa Tuesday about Colonel Reid Hyde, who is employed as a temporary accountant expert. "Mr. Stevens expressed the opinion to the House that Colonel Hyde was simply a social and political factotum to the Canadian High Commissioner."

Premier Is Asked To Provide Rain For the Prairies

Ottawa, May 31.—Premier King has a new mission. The latest request is that he shall appoint himself rainmaker extraordinary to Saskatchewan.

"We have had a wonderful seeding time and everything is now in the ground in good shape," runs a letter from Saskatchewan, which was received and read in the Senate yesterday. "I wish you would draw the attention of the Prime Minister to the desirability of arranging for a copious supply of rain each week for the next three weeks, and we will guarantee to deliver the greatest crop Western Canada has ever produced." Senator Laidlaw expressed the hope the premier would see that a supply of rain was delivered in strict time and in ample quantity. Senator Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate, was somewhat doubtful. "It may be somewhat difficult," he said, "for the Prime Minister and his colleagues to bring about that state of things because they are smiling rather than weeping."

NOW TIME-TESTED AND PROVEN!

THE Goodyear Selected Dealer plan was born to meet a need of the motoring public. It was our answer to the vital problem of how to reduce the cost of selling tires and to increase the service to the user.

It was not a selling scheme. It was not intended, primarily, to sell more tires. Probably at first it sold fewer tires. But it did reduce the cost of doing business. It gave us lower selling costs because we had fewer dealers on whom to call. This saving went back into the quality of Goodyear Tires. It enabled Goodyear dealers to give more and more service to their customers. By concentrating on Goodyear Tires, they in turn have a lower cost of doing business.

Seven years now has Goodyear operated its Selected Dealer plan. Today it stands proven as the most efficient, most money-saving method of distributing tires. Get to know the Goodyear Selected Dealer near you. There is one of them in every town in Canada large enough to support a good dealer.

MR. HINCHLIFFE AWAY OFF

MR. JOSHUA HINCHLIFFE IS ENDEAVORING to make out that the Conservative Party, not the Government, is the staunch advocate of social and other progressive legislation. He apparently has selected this method for his attempt to restore the political fortunes of the Opposition. The facts are strongly against him. It will be remembered that the Liberal Government took office early in 1917.

In 1916 there were no Mothers' Pensions. These came into force in 1920 and the sum paid out last year was $534,518. In 1916 the women had no vote. Since 1917 they have been on an equality with men. In 1916 there was no Department of Labor. This Department was created in the first year of the Liberal Government's tenure of office and it has been an extremely useful agency to British Columbia industry ever since. Until the present Government provided for it in 1918 there was no provision for a minimum wage for women.

Until 1925 there was no "Hours of Work Act." In 1916 there was no government sanatorium for tuberculous patients, no home for incurables, no school for the deaf and blind, no workshop for blind adults, no system of rural nursing, no free clinics for the cure of venereal diseases, no "Equal Guardianship of Children Act," no "Adoption of Children Act," no "Testator's Family Maintenance Act," whereby a man's estate can not be willed away leaving his family destitute. All of these and many other beneficial provisions have been and are now in operation. Incidentally, grants to hospitals have increased from $247,129 in 1916 to $695,841 in 1926, an increase of over 150 per cent.

We may assume that the voters of British Columbia are fully informed on these matters. They will naturally want to know why Mr. Hinchcliffe should attempt to underestimate the value of such legislation. They will remember, of course, that it was his party in the House of Commons at Ottawa that opposed the old age pension measure tooth and nail. Dr. Tolmie was a member of the Opposition at that time, but the passage of the measure has enabled many old people in British Columbia to get a little cheer at eventide.

CANADA SECOND

NORWAY, CANADA AND THE UNITED States lead the world in the per capita consumption of electricity says the Geological Survey of the United States. Figures given by that authority place Canada's consumption in 1927 at 1,320 kilowatt hours per capita compared with 694 kilowatt hours in the United States. That for Norway is given as 2,400 kilowatt hours in 1925. Other statistics given in the statement afford comparisons with available data for Canada showing progress on the North American continent in 1927. The increase in output of public utility plants in the United States from 1926 to 1927 was about nine per cent. The output of central electric stations in Canada according to official figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in the same period gained 12½ per cent. The two statements also afford a comparison in the relation which water power bore to the total output. In the United States the amount produced by water was thirty-seven per cent. In Canada, 98½ per cent. was produced by water power, only 1½ per cent. of the electricity of central electric stations being produced by fuel.

FACTS ABOUT IMMIGRATION

WE HAVE EXAMINED EVERY single objection that has been raised against the examination overseas by Canadian doctors of assisted-passage immigrants, and we have not found one that will hold water.

Dr. David Clark, assistant deputy minister of the Department of National Health, made the foregoing statement during the course of an interview in Toronto yesterday. He also pointed out that "the causes of a decrease in immigration to Canada this year lie deeper than in the medical inspection policy." One of the causes for the fewer number coming from Britain was the feeling of increased optimism over there.

It has been pointed out many times that high physical and mental qualifications are not demanded by the Canadian immigration authorities. Examination is not on the basis of a friendly society or an insurance company; it is merely a simple precaution against the admission of physical or mental defectives who would inevitably become a public charge on this country. A Canadian medical service has been established in Britain, composed of men who understand Canadian conditions, and the prospective migrant can be examined free of charge. In other words, he is able to find out definitely whether he is acceptable before he breaks up his home or severs any of his home ties.

A good deal of nonsense has been indulged in in regard to this matter by opponents of the Government at Ottawa. The Department of Immigration has been charged with discouraging immigration from Britain. This is not true. Large sums of Canadian money are being spent on training centres in the Old Country for the express purpose of preparing settlers for Canadian life. But there is an aspect of the question which seems to have been overlooked by those critics more anxious to score against the Department than to get at the facts. Mr. A. A. Somerville, Conservative member of the British House of Commons for the Windsor division of Berkshire, who knows Canada well, went to the heart of the matter when he expressed himself in the House recently as follows:

In Canada, land and domestic workers are assisted, but they are the very kind of people we want to keep here. We do not want to comb out our countryside. The supply of skilled agricultural laborers is only just adequate, and in some districts the skilled work is falling into the hands of older men. We cannot get a sufficient supply of young men to take their places. Those who represent agricultural constituencies felt rather surprised that Mr. Bruce Walker (the Canadian immigration head in London) was allowed to comb out our countryside. We want to take people from the congested towns.

Mr. Somerville ridiculed the idea of sending out the unemployed people of Great Britain because "the unemployment figures of people suitable for emigration are comparatively small." Added force is given to this view in a rather different way by Colonel J. E. Faure, an automobile manufacturer, who was interviewed by The Times when he passed through Victoria recently. He said: "As a manufacturer, I would go so far as to say that if you wanted a skilled workman in England to-day, you would have to take him from another job." Then he was Sir Robert Horne's statement in Glasgow a few weeks ago that there are as many people employed in Great Britain as before the war; unemployment was due to the employment of women in many industries.

We face this situation: Members of Parliament in Great Britain, particularly those from rural constituencies, are complaining bitterly because Mr. Bruce Walker has been combing the countryside for settlers for this country—although the Department has been charged with discouraging them—and others ridiculing the idea of sending out the unemployed, with a manufacturer assuring us that the supply of skilled labor over there is very scarce indeed. What is left? The people whom we are getting, perhaps not as many as we should like, but the right sort, mentally and physically fit for Canadian life. If we assimilate these, we shall be doing very well.

PEANUT POLITICS

IT IS BEGINNING TO LOOK AS IF THE members of the House of Commons at Ottawa have had enough of the present session. The best that Hon. H. H. Stevens has been able to do during the last few days was to complain that his reception at Canada House in London was not as cordial or as promptly carried out as it should have been. Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London, very properly refuses to be drawn into a controversy with the Vancouver member; but explains that Mr. Stevens was shown every courtesy, that Mr. Pacaud, the secretary, had gone to lunch and had no intimation that Mrs. Stevens was going to call, or he would have gone without his lunch and waited for him. The Conservative member from Vancouver surely must be hard hit for something to talk about if this is the best he can do in the dying days of the session. We presume that if Mr. Larkin had been appointed to his present post by a government supported by Mr. Stevens, he would have found the atmosphere in Canada House a good deal more to his liking.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

USE THE AIR MAIL
From The Ottawa Citizen

This happens to be Air Mail Week in the United States, and across the border they are engaged in a campaign jointly to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the inauguration of the air mail and to further its popularity as an arm of the postal service.

America's celebration is a timely reminder of Canada's position with regard to the air mail. Over there they have developed a continent-wide network of air mail routes. A New York-San Francisco service, begun four years ago, now regularly carries mail which is posted in one city on Monday morning reaches and is delivered in the other on Tuesday evening. Direct lines also operate between Boston and New Orleans, Seattle and Los Angeles, San Antonio and Chicago and other important centres.

No such system has been developed in Canada. But a big beginning has been made. The four principal cities of Eastern Canada—Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and Quebec—are now linked in a regular service connecting with overseas, while there is an air mail service between Montreal and New York and one between Vancouver and Seattle. Soon, these lines will be extended and the day will come when letters between Montreal and Vancouver will be delivered in less than forty-eight hours.

But the public must learn to appreciate the value of the air mail service if it is to be useful to the degree it deserves. An Ottawa post office official says that the Ottawa public has so far failed to take full advantage of the air mail facilities offered locally. Senders of first-class mail to Britain and Europe should acquaint themselves with the new service offered, and then use it. Mark transatlantic letters "Air Mail." It will not cost any more and an ordinary stamp will do until air mail stamps are issued.

Hole-in-one At Jasper's "Bad Baby"

Jasper Park, Alta., May 31.—For the first time in the history of Jasper Park Lodge golf course, an amateur has made a hole in one. The congratulations are showering on Robin Bell-Irving of Powell River, B.C. The feat is all the more spectacular because it is accomplished at the fifteen hole, which is known as the "bad baby." Mr. Bell-Irving was playing over the course yesterday afternoon with George Stevenson of Hamilton, Ont., against Dr. H. B. Leo of Nigeria, British West Africa, and Gordon Barr of Jasper.

Leo did the "bad baby" in two and the game up to that time was so dangerously close that Bell-Irving had to accomplish the impossible.

"He ought to be able to handle 'bad babies,'" said his wife. "He has brought up four."

Lead Poisoning Brings Changes in the Blood

An investigation made by the United States Public Health Service revealed the fact that lead dust is to be found regularly in the air of many industrial establishments.

In cracker factories, underwear factories, machine shops, grocers, cigar factories, tailoring and pressing shops, and even in an ice cream plant some lead was found in the dust in the air. Lead pipe is still in use in most of the larger cities, particularly for connections.

BLOOD CHANGES

When lead is absorbed into the human body changes take place in the tissues of the nervous system and also in the blood. Investigations were made to find out to what extent the absorption of lead would affect the human body when it existed in amounts hardly sufficient to produce poisoning, but still sufficient to produce changes in the blood.

Small degrees of lead absorption are not important, but when the blood cells are affected in considerable numbers, some means must be taken to prevent further absorption of this poison.

Drs. W. S. Leathers and H. J. Morgan investigated the amount of lead poisoning in an enamel plant in Nashville, Tennessee. Thirty-nine cases were found among the men, with a high degree of lead poisoning in fifteen cases.

Only thirteen of the thirty-nine men examined failed to show evidence of lead absorption. One of the men was a painter, four were enamel painters and five were sprayers, one was an inspector, one a furnace man, one a foreman, one was a grainer and one was a mixer. Thus the lead apparently affected the men in all parts of the work without reference to the amount of contact with lead, but apparently with relationship to the attention that they paid to their personal hygiene.

Twenty-six of the men said that they smoked while at work. Most of them were careless about washing their hands before eating. Indeed, many of them ate in the room where they had been working, thus exposing their food to lead dust.

The washroom itself was dark and poorly ventilated, and there were shower baths so that the traces of dust could not be removed before the men left for home.

NOBODY TRIES TO GET HIS GOAT

There isn't a single person trying to get Harry Gulich's goat these days. Harry Gulich doesn't even want to get his own goat. The reason is that William wandered into the barn at his home in Aurora, Ill., the other day, found a couple of sticks of dynamite and ate the dynamite with as much relish as if it had been a line full of clothes of a tin can. This picture of Harry and William was taken before William gobbled up the explosive; Harry isn't going near William any more.

O.C. CRICKET

London, May 31.—Closing scores in first class cricket matches which began yesterday morning were:

West Indies 342, Northumberland 44 for two wickets.

Wales 169 and 3 for no wickets, M.C.C. 119.

Essex vs. Middlesex at Leyton—Middlesex 214 for eight wickets (Horne 87 not out).

Yorkshire vs. Warwickshire at Birmingham—Yorkshire 367 for six wickets, Leicestershire 280, Surrey 35 for no wickets.

Nottinghamshire vs. Kent at Gravesend—Nottinghamshire 497 for five wickets (Paynter 103).

Derbyshire 16, Northants 115 for three wickets.

Lancashire vs. Sussex at Manchester—Lancashire 378 for three wickets (Hallows 195 not out).

Somerset 225, Gloucestershire 47 for one wicket.

Colwood

The Optimists will meet Saturday at the home of Miss Kelly, Nightingale, Colwood.

Canadian Horse Stocks Winning Fine Reputation For Stamina

A great many people are under the impression that horse breeding to-day is confined chiefly to the raising of thoroughbreds for racing purposes. It is true that fewer horses are seen on the streets, but last year there were 3,421,857 horses in Canada valued at $260,476,000. This simply means that horse breeding is still an industry of great proportions and one that must be considered a national asset.

that Candy Mint with the hole!

Horse breeding was almost neglected for some years, but a great improvement has been apparent for some time past, and the finest of all domestic animals is now receiving more serious attention. Better market demands and higher prices have been responsible for the changed attitude on the part of live stock breeders.

Ontario, Quebec and Maritime breeders have experienced a splendid demand for sires, while the farmers of the prairie provinces are breeding more mares. Big draught horses are in demand at all seasons, particularly for bush and farm work. Saddles, hunters and polo ponies are sought after and the best always have ready sale. Quality is the key-note of the demand, which is steadily growing in towns and cities, and also in the United States, where Canadian horses have established a splendid reputation.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture is assisting the horse-breeding industry through its club policy, which enables a community to secure and retain the services of good stallions for a number of years at reasonable fees, and also through the establishing of breeding stations throughout Canada, where thoroughbred stallions are kept, and in connection with which annual "colt shows" are held.

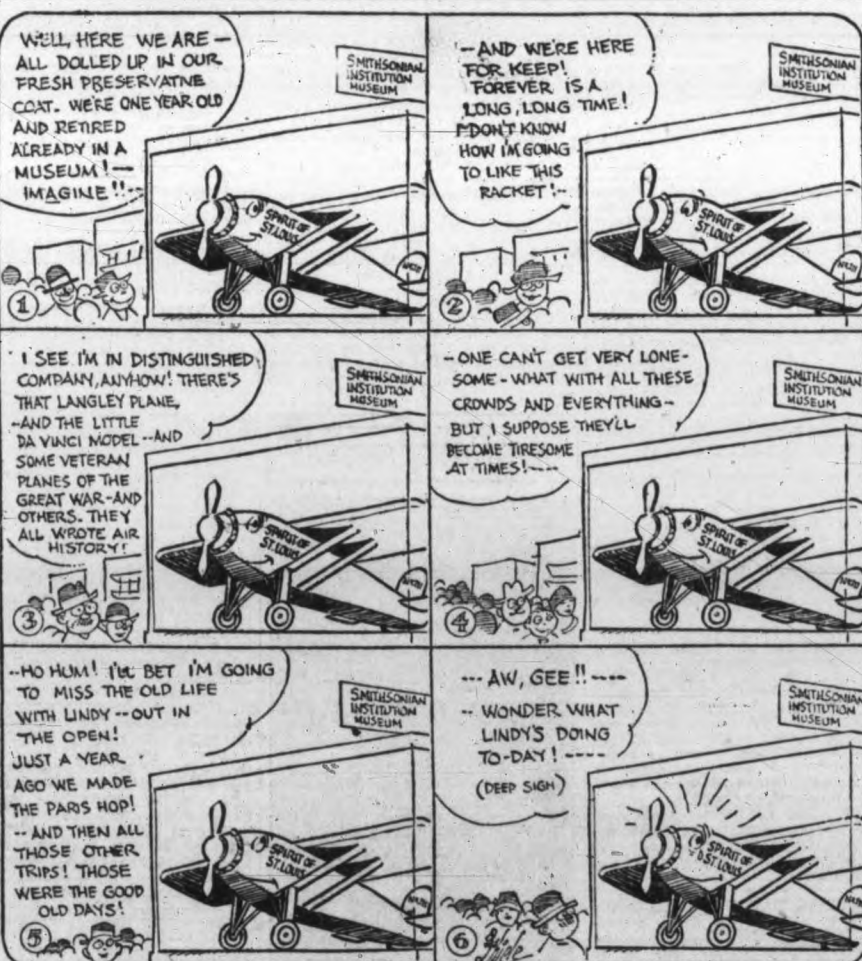

These colt shows are serving to encourage the breeding, developing and showing of good horses; they also prove the prepotency of thoroughbred blood. The Federal Club policy is doing much to establish a definite type, and to grade up the horses of a district by requiring a club to adhere to one breed.

Tennyson had a fine appreciation of a horse which he expresses in his Northern Farmer (new style), written in the Lincolnshire dialect: "Don't thou 'ear my 'orse's legs, as they enters away?"

Propriety, propriety, propriety—that's what I 'ears 'em say. Propriety, propriety, propriety—Sam, thou's an ass for thy 'ealings. There's moor sense 'n one o' 'is legs nor in all thy brainings.

Boving of the University of British Columbia spent a few days this week at his home, "Medlands Farm," Patricia Bay, making final arrangements before departing for England and other places in Europe where he will visit universities and experimental farms. Prof. Boving expects the trip will take nearly five months.

E. Weinschenk, who has been managing "Medlands Farm," Patricia Bay, left this week for Victoria.

Pender Island

Pender Island, May 31.—The annual picnic on May 24 was an outstanding success, the weather being ideal. The first feature was lunch, in cafeteria style. At 1:45 p.m. the sports committee, P. G. Stebbings, W. Bowerman and W. Mollison, called forth the entrants for the first race. Various races and competitions continued throughout the afternoon for all ages, tea being served as a finale at 4 o'clock. The refreshment booth in care of the Misses Bowerman, B. Brackets and Mr. V. W. Mendies, did a brisk business.

Mrs. Geo. Copeland, Master Frank and the Misses Nellie, Mary and H. Copeland, came over from Saturna to spend May 24 with former friends and neighbors at the picnic.

Mrs. A. Nunn of Cumberland, and little son, are guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bridge, Port Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Davidson came down from Vancouver for the weekend.

Mrs. D. G. MacDonald and son, Ronald, came home from Vancouver on Sunday on the Princess Mary.

Miss Mary Hamilton of Victoria spent the week-end at her parent's home, "The Knolls."

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mollison and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clarke on the birth of daughters on May 20 and 22, respectively.

At the recent Parent-teacher's meeting, which was held at the home of the president, Mrs. W. B. Johnston, the members agreed to the purchase of a baseball outfit for the older boys and tennis balls for the juniors and girls. Swings have also been provided and renewed during the last month. Judging of the window boxes will take place the last week in June, and a prize to the value of $3 awarded to the winning grade. The June meeting, it was decided, will be in the form of a social, when Mrs. S. P. Corbett will kindly entertain the members at her home on June 19. Each member is asked to endeavor to bring one or more new members.

The Rev. W. T. Beattie of Grand Forks has been appointed to the United Church pastoral charge of Salt Spring and Pender Islands. The Rev. R. McNaughton of the Saskatchewan conference, after completing in June a nine-months' appointment in this charge, will return to pastoral work in his own conference.

Calgary Body Secures Bible-reading in Schools; Feeble-minded Problem

Toronto, May 31.—A reception given the delegates attending the annual convention of the National Council of Women at Annesley Hall last night by the Canadian Girl Guides, capped a day which saw many topics of interest to women under discussion.

Mrs. J. A. Wilson of Ottawa, national president of the council, called upon the presidents of local councils from many parts of the Dominion to extend greetings and report the progress made during last year in their own communities.

Following the programme of speeches, the Guides entertained the delegates at supper. One member discussed the progress made in promoting religious education in the schools. The reading of the Bible without comment on its contents had been secured in the Calgary schools, she said, and the ten commandments were to be used for the lower grades. Other presiding officers of the various local councils made reports on their work.

VOCATIONAL WORK "Men and women broken by grief, strain or ill-health, have been rapidly rehabilitated by their response to vocational work," stated Dr. Mabel Hannington of St. John's, N.B. in her report on mental hygiene. Scores of cases that have passed from one stage to another of melancholy and inertia for lack of occupational interest, could be redeemed through vocational guidance, Mrs. Hannington declared.

TRAINING FEEBLE-MINDED Institutions for the training, teaching and segregation of the feeble-minded, with adequate parole and supervision systems, were advocated by Dr. Hannington. "The programme for every province should include a psychiatric hospital for the feeble-minded, courts and homes should be needed," she said.

The question of behavior problems among children, neither feeble-minded nor insane, was a subject which would show great developments in the next decade, the speaker believed. In discussing fire prevention throughout the Dominion, Mrs. D. A. Wilson, Ottawa, pointed out the progress made last year in better equipment of water supply systems and fire departments, in the erection of buildings of fire resisting construction, education in the prevention of fires and safety measures in public buildings.

MATERNAL MORTALITY An important discussion was held on maternal mortality with a report by the national convener, Mrs. H. P. Plumptre of Toronto. Statistics were given that the rate of infant mortality had increased from 63 in 1925 to 77 in 1927. It was recommended that the week following Mother's Day should be devoted to a study of maternal mortality problems throughout Canada, in an effort to reduce the mortality rate to a minimum.

Mrs. Wilson, national president, paid tribute to the Victorian Order of Nurses and the Red Cross for their work for mothers. It was urged that the question of maternal mortality should not be restricted for discussion among medical fraternity and women's organizations, but should be made public very generally in order that the safeguarding of the mother life of the country could be more fully accomplished.

GREETINGS FROM B.C. TENDERED NATIONAL BODY

Mrs. Gordon Smith of Victoria Gives Report at I.O.D.E. Rally in Toronto

Toronto, May 31.—The third day of the annual gathering of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire was brought to a close with a banquet, which was attended by women from all parts of Canada. Yesterday's sessions were marked by discussions of the reports of the national educational secretary, the child welfare committee, and of the provincial bodies of Ontario and British Columbia.

TIES OF CITIZENSHIP At last night's banquet women from every province brought greetings and renewed assurance of loyalty to the order.

Miss R. M. Church, national president, in proposing the toast to the Empire, referred to the British Empire as the greatest of family ties the world has ever known. Canada was bound to the Motherland, not only by the blood relation, but by ties of citizenship.

Miss Jessie Baker, young Canadian orator, gave a stirring message on citizenship in her speech, "Canada's Future."

B.C.'S GREETINGS Mrs. Gordon Smith of Victoria, British Columbia, on her first visit to Toronto, expressed herself as delighted with the welcome and inspiration received here, and hoped to see the national meeting some day in the beautiful climate of the Far Western province.

You, Too, Can Know the Joy of Wash-day Freedom

Wash day is just as unnecessary in your home as spinning, weaving, or any of the other old-fashioned home toils of our grandmothers' time. The necessity of confining wash day labors is a thing of the past. To-day the modern woman, the healthy woman, the happy woman, knows the joys of wash day freedom. It gives her more time for pleasure and for her family. This wash day freedom is offered to every woman in Victoria, and at a cost much less than you anticipate.

WOULD FOUND FEDERAL W.M.S. FUND TO LOAN $176,949 TO STUDENTS

Canadian Daughters' League Would Assist in Higher Education

Vancouver, May 31.—An impressive financial statement was given at the morning session of the Presbyterian W.M.S. in Canada, held in the Central Presbyterian Church to-day, by Mrs. R. C. Donald.

The provincial giving to the missionary work amounted to $176,949, with $6,059 from British Columbia, $4,628 from Alberta, $5,476 from Manitoba, $158,904 from Ontario, $38,000 from Quebec and $3,900 from Saskatchewan.

Individual subscriptions amounted to $3,097, while the entire receipts for the year amounted to $344,981. The disbursement for the year included hospital relief amounting to $14,856; Chinese work in Canada, $6,647; work in the Indian schools, $6,733; assistance in school homes, $27,500; social service in its various branches, $63,858, while the work of administration cost $12,525.

FINE REPORTS Organization reports were given by Miss Florence Lang, whose remarks were followed by reports on home helpers, by Mrs. James Logie, Y.W. auxiliaries, by Mrs. J. M. Poole, C.G.I.T., by Miss Muriel Gray, mission bands, by Mrs. J. W. Dill, and field secretary reports, by Miss Edith A. Sinclair and Miss L. K. Pelton.

The delegates from each province were introduced by Mrs. McKerrill and a few words were heard from each president, who stressed the unity of purpose of the meeting.

WANT BIENNIAL MEETINGS New business that will be taken up at the Saturday morning session will include a resolution from Saskatchewan that the council meetings be held biennially. This opinion is endorsed by Quebec, who declare that in view of the large outlay of money and of the physical energies expended for the large gathering, they also favor a council executive enlarged by one or two additional members from each province. Ontario executive is also in favor.

The Ontario executive is anxious to change the constitution to make the title of "honorary member" more definite, in order to guard against the frequent misrepresentation that mixes this title with that of honorary president. They also recommend that auxiliaries, Y.W. auxiliaries and mission bands close their books on November 30, in order to hold the annual meeting in December, according to the constitution. If the general council approves, the Superior Presbytery have resolved to unite with the Manitoba Provincial Society.

Will Not Discuss Sterilization at National Council

Toronto, May 31.—During the discussion which followed Dr. Mabel Hannington's paper on mental hygiene at yesterday's session of the annual convention of the National Council of Women, the question of "sterilization" was brought up.

Dr. Hannington gave it as her definite opinion that the council should take no action nor bring forward any resolution at present on this very moot and complex question.

Edmonton, May 31.—A double murder and suicide are reported from Ralby Hill, forty miles north of Vegreville, Alberta.
Bill Giesbrecht, a farmer, shot and killed his wife Annie, then slew his mother-in-law, Martha Ursula, and then turned the weapon on himself.
The shootings were done about 5 p.m. yesterday.
Provincial Police Corporal Salder and Corporal Coulthard have left for the scene of the tragedy and further details are now awaited by provincial police, following the investigation.

PLANE FLYING FROM U.S. TO HONOLULU

picking up speed every second until 4,000 feet from the start. Captain Kingsford-Smith gave it the stick and the Southern Cross rose about a foot from the ground.
The speed, however, was not sufficient, and the plane settled back to the runway. More gasoline was fed to the motors and, attaining upward of seventy-two miles an hour, the plane soared into the air.

WEIGHED SEVEN TONS
At the start the plane and its load weighed seven tons, including gasoline, cargo and crew. The plane carried 1,200 gallons of gasoline.
After a day and a half of rest at Honolulu the fliers expect to continue their journey toward Australia, stopping at the Fiji Islands en route. In Hawaii the fliers hope to land at Wheeler Field, near Honolulu. They expect to fly over Barking Sands, Island of Kauai, whence the hop-off across the Equator will be made.

LONGEST HOP

The distance to Suva, in the Fiji Islands, is about 3,133 miles. That will be the longest of non-stop hops of the entire flight.
The only landing place at Suva is a polo field. But if the tide is out, landing may be made on a sandy beach. The trip from Suva to Suva is admittedly the most difficult of the three projected.
The flight from Suva will be made to Brisbane, a distance of about 1,730 miles. The fliers hope to reach Australia in a little more than a week.
Captain Kingsford-Smith said just before leaving:
"I have realized an ambition of eight years. The ship is equipped as finely as it is humanly possible to equip a ship. And we will see you in Honolulu."

WEATHER IS FAVORABLE

San Francisco, May 31.—When the monoplane Southern Cross, with its crew of four men, left Oakland this morning for the Hawaiian Islands, en route to Australia, the weather reports indicated it would have broken, low clouds and moderate to fresh north winds, velocity averaging about sixteen miles an hour for the first 400 miles, then light and variable winds and broken clouds until the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands should be approached. From there on the indications were for moderate to fresh winds, fifteen to twenty miles an hour.
No disturbances were charted over the route between San Francisco and Honolulu. Weather and wind conditions were favorable for the start.

The last previous attempt to fly across the Pacific was made during the Dole flights last August, which resulted in several tragedies. The flight contest was for $35,000. The prize was won by James B. Dole, Hawaiian pineapple grower. The first prize of $25,000 was won by Arthur Goebel of Hollywood with the aeroplane Woolacore. The second prize of $10,000 was won by Martin Jensen of Honolulu, with the aeroplane Aloha. Both had companions in the flight.
Lieut. George Covell and Lieut. R. S. Waggoner of the United States naval air station at San Diego were the first victims of the flight. Their monoplane crashed at Point Loma, Calif., a few minutes after they had started for Oakland, and both were burned to death.
Arthur V. Rodgers, another entrant, plunged to his death at Los Angeles a few minutes after he had taken off from Los Angeles for Oakland.

two of these, together with another plane that went to hunt for them, were lost with all aboard. The two planes lost first were the Miss Doran, carrying Miss Mildred Doran, twenty-two-year-old Flint, Mich. school teacher; J. Auger, Peckham, pilot, and Lieut. V. B. Knapp of the United States navy, navigator; and the Golden Eagle, George Hearst's entry, manned by Jack Frost and Gordon Scott of Los Angeles. None of the five was ever found.

After it appeared the Golden Eagle and the Miss Doran were lost, Captain William F. Ervin of Texas set out in the Dallas Spirit to hunt for them, with Alvin Eichwald of Hayward, Calif., as navigator and radio operator. About 700 miles out on Friday night, August 19, the operator of the Dallas Spirit sent a distress call saying the plane was going into a tail spin. This was repeated, and then no more was heard from the craft, and it is still among the missing.

SUCCESS RECALLED
Fliers have demonstrated, however, that under favorable conditions they can reach Honolulu. In addition to the Dole fliers who made it, the late Commander John Rodgers and his crew in the United States naval plane PN-1, flew most of the distance in September, 1925. They were unheard of for nine days and finally showed up off the island of Kauai, and were towed in.
Others who flew to Honolulu were Lieut. Lester J. Maitland and Albert F. Hegenberger of the United States army air force, and Ernest L. Smith and Emory B. Bronte. Maitland and Hegenberger flew June 28 and 29 last year in the Bird of Paradise, a big plane, in 25 hours and 25 minutes. Smith and Bronte flew July 14-15 last year in the City of Oakland in 25 hours and 36 minutes. Their plane was wrecked in a forced landing.

O'HALLORAN GETS NOMINATION

the Dominion was already bearing fruit, and from all sources from which authentic information could be obtained, the fact emerged that a period of unexampled progress had already been entered upon.

Well might Liberals be proud, she said, of the record of their great party in the upbuilding of the great Dominion. Mrs. Smith touched briefly on provincial matters, saying that we were evidently on the eve of a provincial election, and as in the wider Dominion field, so in British Columbia, Liberals had reason to believe, that the commonsense of our people would enthusiastically respond to the clarion call of Liberalism and that the Hon. C. H. MacLean and his government would be returned to carry on the work so well done in the past.

In that happy event she was sure that the provincial ridings represented in the gathering she was addressing, would see to it that Vancouver Island would send solid support to the Liberal administration at Victoria.

A striking feature of the meeting was the cordial tribute given to C. H. O'Halloran, the president.
Mr. O'Halloran had expressed a desire to retire as president, saying that having occupied the position for three years, he thought some other members should have the honor. The president was not allowed to proceed far along these lines. Many delegates referred to the invaluable services rendered to the riding by Mr. O'Halloran, and said to him more than any other individual, credit was due for arousing the Liberals of the constituency and instilling that feeling of goodwill and co-operation which was clearly in evidence at this meeting.

Short speeches were made by the following delegates: N. W. Whitaker, Dr. G. B. Brown, Mrs. A. B. McMillan, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. M. M. Beck, J. Stuart Yates, F. McGregor, Mark Graham, J. B. PHYSICIAN STATES POLICE HEAD ILL

Medical Man Tells Vancouver
Commissioner Inspector J.
Jackson Ought to Rest

Vancouver, May 31.—Declaring that in his opinion Inspector John Jackson was too ill on July 28, 1927, to telephone to Detective Sergeant George McLaughlin, as previous witnesses had sworn they had been told, Dr. K. D. Pantou, police department physician, gave evidence at this morning's session of the Vancouver police inquiry. He was examined by A. H. MacNeill, K.C., counsel for the commission, G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for Police Commissioner T. W. Fletcher and W. W. B. MacInnes, counsel for Inspector Jackson.

REST ADVISED

In reply to a question from Mr. McGeer, Dr. Pantou said he had written the chief two weeks ago suggesting Inspector Jackson be relieved of his duties as he was now in poor health. Here he was given to understand Inspector Jackson was exceptionally capable in handling Chinese cases and that he was invaluable in such work in difficult cases.
"If for no other reason," asked Mr. McGeer, "would it not be a matter of mercy to relieve him?"
"Because of his health, yes," replied Dr. Pantou.

"You say he is a very sick man," said Mr. McGeer. "Is it not a fact that a city council would not make an appointment as quickly as this?"
Mr. MacInnes took exception to this question.

"If you asked for it and you got it," said Mr. McGeer.

F. CAISA TESTIFIES
Frank Caixa was recalled to the stand and under cross-examination by Mr. MacInnes, denied he had told Detective Constable Fletcher that Inspector Jackson was in poor health. He had said, however, that he had paid protection money to Sergeant McLaughlin.

YESTERDAY'S EVIDENCE

At yesterday afternoon's session of the inquiry evidence in a resolution of the Vancouver Police Commission of September, 1921, was not intended to authorize inauguration of an entertainment fund with money offered as bribes to police officers, was given by former Police Commissioner J. J. McRae, mover of the resolution. Mr. McRae said that when he moved the resolution he meant it to refer to one specific case. He had believed, he said, that the man who offered the money had been prosecuted, but the action had failed, and the money had been "foisted."

SECRETARY TESTIFIES

Denial that any bribe money had been placed in the "entertainment fund" after a prosecution had failed was given by A. Frank Amor, secretary of the Police Commission, and Chief H. W. Long. When a prosecution was instituted for attempted bribery, said Mr. Amor, the money in question was filed as an exhibit at the trial. He had never even tried to obtain such money for the fund, he declared.
A report from Inspector J. Jackson to Chief Long describing an alleged attempt to bribe the former by George Chow was filed by G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for Police Commissioner T. W. Fletcher. The report contained a notation, signed "C.C." in which Mr. Amor was instructed to place the bribe money referred to—$100—in the "entertainment fund."

Mr. McGeer drew the attention of Commissioner R. S. Lennie to the signature of Jackson and the endorsement of, he said, the Chief Constable. One was of recent date, stated Mr. McGeer.

BUILDING IN VANCOUVER ON THE INCREASE

Vancouver, May 31.—Value of building permits issued in Greater Vancouver since January amount to $10,012,413, as compared with $8,889,746 for the corresponding period of 1927, according to figures compiled by the district building departments.
The greatest increase is in the city, where the five months' total is $5,983,871, as against $4,690,911 for the last year.

A. J. Pilkington, city comptroller of Vancouver and J. B. Williams, city solicitor, acting on instructions from the city council, held a conference with Mr. Kidd and Mr. Murphy and presented their report to the mayor yesterday. In part the report stated:
"Incidentally, and quite apart from the question of the recent change in control of the company, Mr. Kidd stated the street railway or transportation branch of their activities was on a different footing to the others, and that the present fares in the city of Vancouver did not give what was recognized as an adequate return on the capital invested. In other words, transportation at the present rates was not a paying branch of the company."
Mr. Kidd also pointed out that the power corporation was a "holding company" only, and that the city would still deal with the B.C. Electric Railway Company, or with any company which might be legally incorporated to take over the operations of the present company.

COMMISSION PLANS

In their report to the mayor, Mr. Pilkington and Mr. Williams said:
"In reference to the suggestion which appeared in the press that the Provincial Government might be called upon to constitute a public utilities commission for the control of rates in the province, Mr. Kidd stated it was a question for the consideration of the city council as to whether, in view of past experience, it would prefer to deal direct with the B.C. Electric Railway Company or such operating company as might take its place. In either case, adjustments to a special commission constituted under some special act of the Legislature."
"As to the question of the new company being incorporated under a Dominion act, instead of the provincial act, Mr. Kidd stated that all similar financing by a Dominion charter involved in this transaction had been done by the issue of 'no par value' stock, and as the laws of this province did not permit of the issuance of such stock, the only method of carrying out the transaction was under Dominion charter. Mr. Kidd assured us that the obtaining of a Dominion charter was not with any intention of avoiding any of the statutory requirements imposed by any provincial legislation. He pointed out that the B.C. Electric Power and Gas Company Ltd. was recently incorporated with powers to acquire the assets and carry on the operations of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and subsidiary companies, and was incorporated under the acts of the province."

Insomnia Patient May Be Relieved By Simple Methods

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

If a person cannot sleep because of constant irritability from a painful tooth or some other portion of the body, relief may be had by giving a remedy which diminishes the sensation of pain.

A hot bath immediately before going to bed will help some people to sleep, particularly those with high blood pressure. Pain in various portions of the body is not infrequently relieved by the application of heat directly to those portions.

MANY REMEDIES

Nowadays the scientific physician has available hundreds of medicaments that are of special value in producing sleep. They vary from the old-fashioned bromides and similar hypnotic drugs to all sorts of modifications of what is known as the barbituric acid series.

It is quite possible for a patient to become too dependent on a drug, and it is possible to eliminate the taking of the drug by gradual substitution. For instance, a physician found it valuable to prescribe a drink of hot milk each evening for a nervous woman who was unable to sleep.

BREAKING THE HABIT

During the first week a very small dose of a sedative drug was placed in the milk, and after the week the milk was continued without the drug. Apparently the patient had by this time formed the habit of falling asleep after drinking the milk and was able to continue without the use of any medication.

The modern physician is inclined to prevent insomnia rather than to cure it. A careful study of the patient's habits of living will probably reveal certain factors that need modification. Attention given to these factors produces inevitably some response. The use of a drug may be necessary in severe instances and this may be given in the manner mentioned or prescribed by a physician, since many of the drugs used to produce sleep have elements of danger as well as of good. Most important of all is a restoration of the patient's confidence in his ability to sleep. Once this is established, the insomnia is likely to disappear.

NEEDED BY YOUTH

An expert masseur, by the use of stimulating massage which gradually becomes more gentle, is able to induce in the patient a desire for rest. If the patient is then placed in a comfortable and warm bed, he is likely to fall asleep promptly.

Specialists in nervous and mental diseases are agreed that lack of sleep is more damaging to young persons than to adults.

OLD-TIME CAR WINS FOR BOY

Lou Meyers Scouted For Long Time to Get Some One to Back Him in Race

Boston Man Finally Bought Car For Him; Gave It Coat of Red Paint and Won

Drove Few Laps in Indianapolis Classic Last Year; Favorites Drop Out

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Main honors in the 500-mile motor classic here yesterday once again fell upon the shoulders of an unknown driver, Lou Meyers, just twenty-three years of age, who sped over the distance in a veteran car that he only succeeded in purchasing recently.

No one had any confidence in Meyers as he went about looking for money. He had had little experience in first-class racing although he had all the courage and confidence in the world. Last week he finally succeeded in digging up a Boston friend as his angel to furnish the money to purchase his car. The machine really is an old-timer in the racing game. It was used by Anthony Gullotta in finishing third in the race a year ago.

Given a coat of red paint, with a huge number 39 painted in black on the hood and tail, Meyers was proud of his car as if it had just come out of the shops.

Looking back over the race, Meyers never was out of the first ten from start to finish. After trailing from ninth to fifth position for the first 250 miles, Meyers suddenly moved up into second place and thereafter he was never worse off than third place.

RODE FEW LAPS

Meyers broke into the racing game as a mechanic for Fred Elliott, who has since retired, and a year ago rode a few laps in the Indianapolis race as relief driver for Wilbur Shaw.

The race really was won in the last thirty miles when suddenly developed into a see-saw affair with Meyers, Jimmy Gleason, young Philadelphia driver, and Tony Gullotta fighting it out for first place. Meyers snatched the lead from Jimmy Gleason on his 468th mile and from then on he stepped on the gas, holding it until the finish. Gullotta, always a dangerous challenger, suffered a stroke of misfortune when within a few miles of the finish line his gas line became clogged on the back stretch and there he stalled.

FORCED OUT BY TROUBLE

Gleason, who led the race for miles, and seemed certain to have victory in his grasp, also fell a victim of misfortune in the closing miles of the race when his motor gave him trouble and he was forced to quit.

The trio of favorites, Leon Dury, Los Angeles; Cliff Woodbury of Chicago, and Cliff Bergers, another Los Angeles entry, wound up in disaster early in the race, the victim of motor trouble. Dury at the outset set the same dizzy pace he showed in his qualifying round and turned up the course as the leader for the first 162 miles.

Bergers was forced out with a broken distributor shaft before speeding fifty miles, and Woodbury was declared out on his 137th mile because of a broken timing gear.

Dury found solace in the fact, however, that he had won $5,800 in lap prizes with Gleason picking up $6,700, Tony Gullotta $500 and Babe Stapp, another one of the early challengers $1,900.

LACOSTE SHOWS SUPERB CLASS

Defeats Crawford, Australian Star, as if He Had Been Pupil; Miss Bennett Wins

Auteuil, France, May 31.—Rene Lacoste, playing perfect tennis to-day, swept into the men's singles, semifinals, ahead of the five in the international hard court championship by defeating the young Australian, Jack Crawford, 6-0, 6-1, 7-5.

Lacoste gave the impression of a master giving the pupil a tennis lesson. Crawford defeated Lacoste's compatriots, Borotra and Brugnon, last winter in Australia.

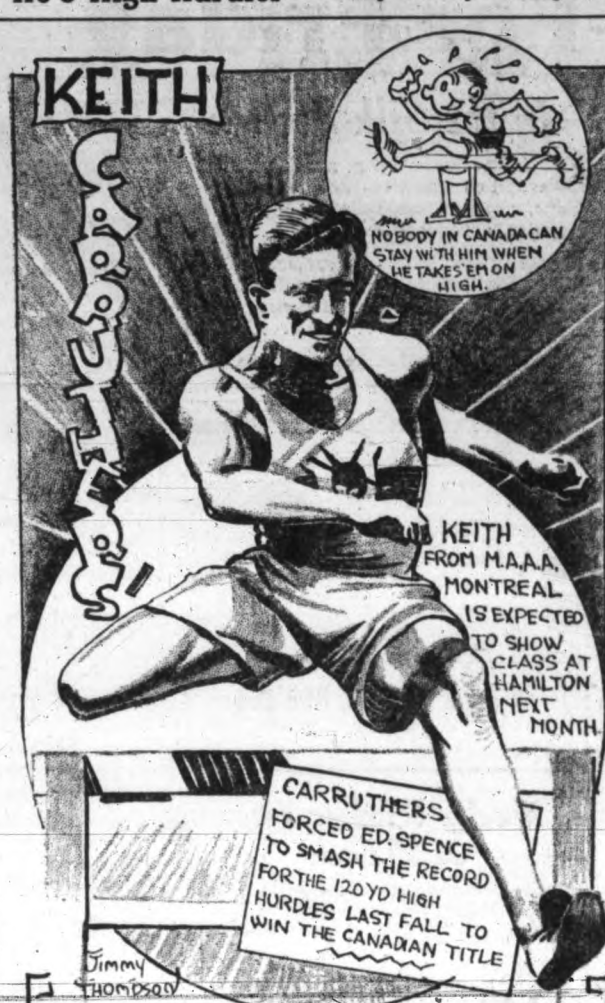

Henri Cochet, French tennis star, to-day defeated Francis T. Hunter, second ranking American player, in the fourth round, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

By winning, Miss Bennett, who yesterday won the mixed doubles championship, paired with Henri Cochet, entered the semi-finals round.

PLYE TALKS

New York, May 31.—C. C. Pyle yesterday issued a statement declaring that prize money due the winners in his transcontinental foot race will be paid in cash Friday night at Madison Square Garden. Meanwhile five men employed in connection with the "bunion derby" began back-pay suits yesterday.

He's High Hurdler —By Jimmy Thompson

Sit down and figure this out: Keith Carruthers staged one of the smartest hurdle races ever seen in this country last fall at the Canadian track meet held at Varsity stadium. He and Ed Spence, the American, who held the Canadian record for the 120 yard high hurdles, covered the same distance for the same time for 1927-8. They covered the distance hurdle for hurdle until the last one. As Carruthers was landing, he lost his balance just enough to put him off his stride. The result was that Spence finished a foot ahead of Carruthers.

So, according to Hoyle, Keith should be able to take Spence on any day in the week. He is without a doubt the best hurdler Canada has in that game in the country.

Carruthers has had a most varied athletic career. He has paddled for Parkdale Canoe Club, rowed for Argos and played rugby for Toronto Varsity. Keith also tried his luck at putting the shot and throwing the discus. At present he is working in Montreal and is training under the colors of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association for the coming Olympics. And the "rail-birds" think he's a "sure winner."

Elect Art Stokes Boss Of Local Football At Very Peaceful Meeting

Lower Island Football Association Holds Annual Gathering and Nobody Attends With Chip on His Shoulder, Which Was Out of Keeping With Past Meetings; Everyone Happy and Satisfied With Financial Statement

Art Stokes, formerly soccer referee, was elected president of the Lower Island Football Association at the annual meeting in the Y.M.C.A. last night. Laurie Gray was returned as secretary-treasurer and the council members will be W. Hadley, Tim Bradner, Frank Giolma and Fred Reeves.

It was the most peaceful and harmonious football meeting held in Victoria for a long time. In fact it was hard to reconcile the atmosphere with that of a soccer meeting. Usually the air is charged with nothing less than dynamite with plenty of scorching language.

No one went to the meeting with a chip on his shoulder. Instead the delegates had pleasant things to say of each other and it was surprising how much better everyone felt when they went home. They were able to sleep well.

The clubs were all satisfied with the past season. A fine financial statement was presented and all the First Division clubs are to receive a slice off the melon, which made them all feel good.

Alex. Robertson, who presided over the L.I.F.A. this year, was asked to stand again, but he declined. He accepted the post as delegate from the L.I.F.A. to the annual meeting of the B.C.F.A. at Vancouver one week from Saturday.

CURTIS HURLS CAPS TO WIN

Island League Team Defeats Westholme Hotel 11-3 in Nine-Inning Game

Playing snappy ball behind the steady pitching of the veteran pitcher, Jack Curtis, the Capitals, local entry in the Vancouver Island Baseball League, chalked up a 11-3 victory over the Westholme Hotel in a nine-inning game, at the Royal Athletic Park last night.

The Westholmes got away to a two-run lead in the first inning. When Smith, the first man up, singled past third base, Killick, the next batter, lifted the ball over the centre-field fence. This gave the fans quite a thrill and made the Caps get down to business.

APPLY THE BRAKES

The Capitals shut down and the Westholmes were only able to shove the more run across the rubber. In the second inning the Caps scored one run, but in the fourth tallied three times and took the lead. In the sixth two more men checked in. The Westholmes scored their third and last run in the seventh, but the Caps discounted this by also scoring a run in this inning.

Oatman led the Capital sluggers with three hits out of five trips to the plate. He will also receive a smaller cup presented by the club. The Killick was the big man with the wil-

YOUNG FRENCH STAR WRITES "FINIS" TO CAREER OF NOTED GERALD PATTERSON IN TENNIS

Auteuil, France, May 31.—Christian Boususs, eighteen-year-old French tennis star, practically wrote "Finis" to the career of the once great Australian, Gerald Patterson, as far as leading roles in international singles are concerned when he forced him to abandon their match to-day after the third set with the score 6-1, 5-7, 9-7.

The match was in the fourth round of the international hard court singles championship and was to have been decided by winning three out of five sets, but the Australian was so exhausted as to be unable to continue.

Looking Things Over

"Say, Mr. Sporting Editor, whose going to protect us guys that pay the dough to see the boxing bouts in town now," said a voice on the telephone this morning.

"You see it this way," galloped on the voice, "we go up to the fights, pay whatever is demanded and then get a seat. But suppose something happens to a headliner, like the other night when Bud Davies, of Vancouver, claimed a foul in the second round against Tommy Fielding, of Victoria. The referee ignored the claim and then gives the fight to Fielding. Now that's all right for Fielding's record but what about us fellows who paid to see ten rounds of fighting or else a legitimate knockout."

"If they're going to have boxing bouts here every week and want the fans to check in with their money it's time there was some kind of supervision. If a headliner won't fight when the referee tells him to they ought to take his purse away from him. Suppose a man is fighting on a percentage of the house and the attendance is not as big as he would like it, what's to stop him from pulling out after a couple of rounds?"

There is a lot of truth in the comment of the voice over the wire. At present there is little supervision of boxing here. There was talk some time ago of a Boxing Commission being formed here. The Police Commission gives out the boxing licenses and as long as there is no other form of control, the commission should be responsible. The commission should keep an eye on all fights and see that the public is protected.

English Rugby seems destined to come into its own in Ontario. Now, for the first time, the game is under centralized control and an earnest effort is being made to promote and popularize the code which for generations has been one of the most favored team competitions in the British Isles. Our own football is an outgrowth of rugby—an evolution of the game which originated at the famous school for which it is named, when a player picked up a soccer ball and ran with it. Rugby is a fast, skilful and tricky game replete with open play, fine passing and punting and less of the line-plunging and battering attacks of Canadian football. In other parts of Canada, especially in British Columbia and in the Maritime Provinces, the game of Rugby is played almost to the exclusion of Canadian football. There is room enough for the fine old British game, for the Canadian code and for soccer too.—Toronto Globe.

With only the results of the Oxford-Cambridge and the California-Washington races known at this time, it is much too early to speculate what crews will be in the Olympic rowing races and what kind of crews they will be. It is quite certain, however, that England will have a good crew on the water and that there will be another good one sent from the United States. And that England and the United States will do what fighting there is for the championship.

Cambridge raced Oxford almost off the Thames river course in their annual race a short time ago and won by nine lengths or better. That would seem to indicate that Cambridge either had a very good crew or Oxford has a very terrible one. The chances are that Cambridge has a good crew and will furnish most of the oarsmen in the boat that the Leander Club will send to Amsterdam. There isn't very much known now about the American crews other than that the Columbia University champions of 1927 have been almost wrecked by sickness and injuries and that California has a better crew, for the time being at least, than Washington.

California won the Pacific Coast championship by a half-boat length from Washington and will go to Poughkeepsie and the Olympic trials. Washington complained that the race was started too early in the season and caught her crew out of shape.

Two great crews won the Olympic championships for the United States in 1920 and 1924. There is no crew now in training that promises to be as good as that Navy eight was in Brussels or that Yale was in Paris.

It may seem presumptuous to dismiss all the Olympic entries but England and the United States, but the dope makes them the only serious candidates. They are the only nations that have the facilities to pick a whole boat as a crew instead of being forced to work individual material into a unit.

Even the British do a little manufacturing for the crews of the Leander Club, but all the oarsmen are from Oxford and Cambridge and there is not as much difference in the systems and styles of rowing as there is among the big American universities.

low for the Westholmes with three safe hits out of four times at bat.

The teams played fast ball and were able to get in nine innings.

Laughs at Bad Luck and May Win Events at Olympic Games

BUD SPENCER, STAR CAPTAIN STANFORD TRACK TEAM

About two years ago a strapping, fine looking young fellow was moved carefully out from under a pile of automobile wreckage in a ditch beside a California pile. His face was lacerated horribly. One eye was gone and the other was hurt terribly. It seemed that a disgraced wreck had been made of a most promising young athlete.

They said at the hospital that the reserve stamina of a trained athlete's body gave him an even chance to escape with his life, but that he never again would be able to use his body in physical competition.

Bud Spencer gave them the classic "Yeah?" when the crepe had been hung on his athletic future and when his legs would hold him he was back on the track. Before his accident he had been a most promising freshman hurdler and it was on a return trip from a freshman meet that he encountered the wreck and was almost ruined.

IN QUARTER-MILE

Dink Templeton, the Stanford coach, did not want to hurt his feelings by refusing him a suit when he was out of the hospital, but he tactfully suggested that hurdling was a hazardous game and dangerous too for a boy who had defective vision in his one good eye.

The coach persuaded him flat racing would be better suited to him and started him training for the quarter-mile.

Now Bud Spencer is the captain and star of the Stanford track team, one of the greatest college teams that ever has been assembled. Not only that, Spencer may be the gift of the gods in answer to the prayer of the American Olympic coaches for a quarter-mile to run at Amsterdam.

Spencer recently cracked off 400 metres in 47 seconds flat, breaking the world's record, and if he had been clocked for two feet ten inches further he would have knocked off Ted Meredith's quarter-mile record, which has been standing all these years.

Spencer is no accident, even if he is the product of one. Twice in competition he has been within one second of Meredith's record and he may beat it this summer.

He is now in Boston, where he will start serious training for the intercollegiate track and field championships, where his Stanford team hopes to retain the title. With Jack Ryder, the great middle distance running coach, who developed Lloyd Hahn, he will also start working for the Olympics.

The American Olympic team has been offering sacrifices for middle distance runners. There are sprinters, hurdlers, jumpers and weight men galore, but no runners. With Spencer in the 400, 1,500 in the 800 and Hahn in the 1,600-meter races, things are looking better, however.

Newcastle, Ireland, May 31.—Ernest Whitcombe, English professional, to-day won the Irish open golf championship with a seventy-two-hole score of 288.

Archie Compston, another English professional, finished second, four strokes behind the winner.

Newcastle, Ireland, May 31.—Ernest Whitcombe scored sixty-nine yesterday in the second round of the Irish open golf championship, giving him 127 and a lead of seven strokes on the field.

Whitcombe continued his brilliant play of Tuesday when he broke the Royal County Down Golf Club course record with 68. Archie Compston also turned in a card of 69 yesterday and is in a tie for second place with a thirty-six-hole score of 144. Abe Mitchell, with 71 yesterday, compiled an aggregate of 144 with Compston.

Henry Cotton, the young London pro, started out to give a sensational performance, but slipped at the close. He played the first four holes in twelve strokes but a nine at the eighteenth gave him a score of 75 for the day and 148 for the first thirty-six holes.

FIGHTERS IN FINE SHAPE

Dusty Miller and Jimmy Lyall Complete Training For Six-round Bout Saturday

Tickets are selling fast for the six-round bout on Saturday night at the Tillicum gymnasium between "Dusty" Miller of Seattle and Jimmy Lyall of Victoria. This is the main event of a professional card to be staged under the auspices of the Tillicum Athletic Club. The first bout will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Miller and Lyall both worked out at the Tillicum gym last night impressing the spectators with their speed. Miller leaves for Mount Vernon, tomorrow night to appear in a six-round bout against "Red" Hanlon, and will arrive back in Victoria Saturday.

A number of good preliminary bouts have been arranged and a packed house is expected to watch the boys perform. Tickets are now on sale at F. B. Richardson's Cigar Store, 735 Yates Street.

Cincinnati Increase Lead in National League to Three Full Games

Pittsburgh Pirates, Crippled, Sag Lower; Hornsby's Hitting Feature

Twelve major league teams were preparing to-day for get-away skirmishes to clear the decks for the season's second stage of inter-sectional warfare, scheduled to begin at some points along the baseball front as early as to-morrow.

The Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago Cubs, already were on their way East, while the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Robins were idle, awaiting a brief resumption of their inter-city strife at the Polo Grounds to-morrow.

The Reds jumped to an outstanding position in the Decoration Day battles yesterday with a clean sweep of their games against the Cubs. The day witnessed no fewer than five other teams march on to two victories in a day, but rain stopped this unusual situation being carried further. Rain descended upon both the Yankee Stadium and Ebbets Field before a decision could be reached in the second game.

GAIN A GOOD LEAD

The Reds beat the Cubs twice only by showing the greatest aggressiveness after a 6-3 victory over Charlie Root in the morning behind the fine pitching of Rixey. Ford's single in the tenth in the second game, provided the winning margin in a 2-1 victory against the Reds East with a lead of three full games.

The crippled Pirates sagged lower into the second division when they lost two games to the St. Louis Cardinals 10-1 and 4-3. The National League champions apparently are on the verge of a serious situation.

The Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 and 11-5. The day was featured by Hornsby's two homers, one of these winning the first game in the tenth inning and the other sending the Braves away to start of three runs in the second game.

The Giants found Brooklyn pitching easy in the morning and the Robins lost 9-1. Clark was giving the A's quite a time in the afternoon when rain stopped the game with the score tied 2-2.

American League fans were interested in the 6-0 defeat of the Champion Yankees by Washington. Garland Braxton, Yankee castoff, held the Huggens to three hits, while the Senators made merry with Shelly. By defeating the Boston Red Sox 8-1 and 9-2, the Athletics gained 1½ games on the Yankees, but remained seven games in the rear.

The Detroit Tigers defeated the Indians twice 4-3 and 6-5.

The Browns won both games from the Chicago White Sox, 3-1 and 5-2. Yesterday's results were:

Carrying 122 pounds, Blue Larkspur covered the five furlongs in 59 3-5 to win the $17,750 purse. The colt paid 12 to 1.

STEALING OUR STUFF AND MAKING US LIKE IT

Fairway Fancied To Win Derby At Epsom Wednesday

London, May 31.—In the public eye chief contender for the great Epsom Derby, which will be run next Wednesday, lies between Lord Derby's fine colt, Fairway, champion of the two-year-olds last year, and Sir Lawrence Phillips's speedy Flamingo, winner of the classic Two Thousand Guineas two weeks ago. Fairway, because of illness, did not run in the Guineas. He is practically fully recovered, however, making a swift gallop of full Derby distance at Newmarket Heath yesterday under the eyes of Lord and Lady Derby.

Betting in London last night was 11 to 4 against Fairway and 11 to 2 against Flamingo. Sunny Trace comes next at 9 to 1, with the odds 100 to 8 against Ranjit Singh and Royal Minster, the Craven winner; 100 to 6 against Bubbles, and 20 to 1 against Gang Warly. The others to start are, at the present, rank outsiders.

SOFTBALL

Last night's softball games played

In "D" section of the City League were as follows: Ladies' Sample Shoe Store 38, Pimley & Ritchie 12, Arctics 23, Mets 7, Oak Bay 18, Albion Store 8, LADIES' SECTION, St. Saviour's 34, New Method Laundry 24.

Two games will be played in the "C" section of the City League, to-night as follows: Canadian Scottish vs. Y.M.C.A. at Central Park, upper diamond. Umpires, C. Haymer and Wooster. Y.M.I. vs. Royals, at Central Park, lower diamond. Umpires, P. Payne and A. Stokes.

The game scheduled for the Hudson's Bay and Wilson Brothers has been postponed, as the former club is unable to field a team.

SONS BATTLE EAGLES' NINE

Holness and Whiteside Expect to Perform in Pitchers' Duel To-night

Sons of Canada and Eagles will provide the opposition in the Senior Amateur League ball game scheduled at the Royal Athletic Park to-night, commencing at 6:15 o'clock.

The last time these two clubs met the game ended in a one-all tie after a hectic struggle. Only one hit was registered by the two teams. Young Jimmy Holness and Eric Whiteside, who chucked in the previous deadlock, will take the mound this evening.

Holness and Whiteside are both youngsters, but they have real class. Another pitching duel is expected. A win for the Eagles to-night will put them on even terms with the Sons for the league leadership.

Glasgow Rangers

Start With Easy Win in U. States

Philadelphia, May 31.—The Glasgow Rangers, the Scottish soccer champions, opened their American tour here yesterday with a victory over the Eastern Pennsylvania All-Stars. The score was 8 to 2. The match was played in the Municipal Stadium on the Sequen-tennial grounds.

The Scottish champions had things all their own way. Local soccer experts were of the opinion that the visitors could have increased their score if they had drawn upon their full resources. McPhail and Fleming of the Rangers, scored three goals each, while Archibald and Morton made the other two. Rudolph and Lindsay scored the goals for the All-Stars.

JUST PLAIN LUCKY IN EVERYTHING

HE WOULD RATHER HAVE BEEN FRANK CHANCE THAN THE PIONEER OF THE AUTO RACERS

"Always one grand and regular fellow. As game a man as ever sat at the wheel of a racing car. A sportsman who never spared his hide if it would endanger another driver. A high class fellow and lucky—lucky as a rabbit's foot in everything he touched."

There you have an impression of Barney Oldfield given by Bill Pickens, who managed and exploited him in the old days when automobile race driving was the easiest way of getting admitted to the "inside club."

It has been an accepted theory for years, conceived in the old days when hazards were even greater than they are to-day, that all a race driver or an aviator had to do to be sure of being killed was to stick at the game long enough and give time its chance.

It also was a theory that an aviator or a race driver had to be a little daffy to risk hide, limbs and life in a business where the financial rewards were so trivial. "You're killed or crippled for life before you get a chance to make any real dough," the practically-minded figured.

REAL LUCKY Barney Oldfield is one living refutation of the theory that you can't beat the game by living through it and coming out with any dough. Oldfield is a rich man, a healthy and happy man in a frame with no disabled member. The first man to get a reputation by dare-devilry in an automobile and a man whose name still comes first when motor race driving is mentioned.

"Lucky, lucky as a rabbit's foot," Pickens gives as the reason and Oldfield does not dispute it. In fact, he was so convinced that luck had been so extremely fond of him that he quit the game before the fickle fates would forget him momentarily.

It is a matter of record that Oldfield was in as many crashes and was cracked up as much as the averages exact of any driver, but he came out of it with his life and hide and plenty of dough. And in these mercenary days of commercialized sports it is the dough part of his career that interests most people in answer to the thought "Well, what did he get out of it?"

He got plenty when he was racing, and he is getting plenty now as by-products of a great reputation. Just for a little example, he has made $50,000 on the market in the last few months and there is an interesting story about it.

CLEANED UP Some time ago Oldfield wrote to Pickens from Los Angeles that he had a proposition in Detroit that he was going to look into and would remain in Detroit as long as it was good.

A few days ago he wrote to Pickens again saying that he was going to Detroit indefinitely because "It's been good for $50,000 already."

Years ago Harry Cunningham was Barney's big rival on the track. They were real rivals, not the phoney kind that are built up for publicity purposes. In their active days on the track they were not friendly, but when they got out of the business they forgot their old feelings and became good friends.

Oldfield's connections with Ford and Firestone had put him beyond any financial worries, but Cunningham hadn't been so successful until Larry Fisher (Fisher Bodies) and some of the younger automobile men in Detroit took a fancy to him. They had him placed in the Detroit office of one of the biggest Wall Street firms and as soon as he got established he wrote to Barney.

"Come on to Detroit if you can," he

NEWS IN BRIEF

The monthly meeting of the Victoria Radio Club will be held at the clubhouse Friday, at 8 o'clock. The public is invited, and listeners having trouble through interference are requested to let the club know, and if possible it will be eliminated.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors this week will be held at 4 p.m. in the Chamber rooms, in order not to conflict with the Canadian Club luncheon at noon.

William L. Marcy, 1309 Douglas Street, was fined $25 in the city police court this morning for driving his car to the common danger on Gorge Road last Sunday afternoon. He also paid a $5 fine for failing to produce his driver's license upon the request of a police officer.

The new West Coast Road on Vancouver Island will be a topic of discussion at the meeting of the Real Estate Board of Victoria in Spencer's dining-room on Friday. The luncheon starts at 12:30 p.m. Reports will be received from convention committees and the unauthorized use of the term "real-ty" will be discussed.

The Victoria Welsh Society will hold its monthly meeting at Harmony Hall on Friday night. A very interesting programme has been arranged. Through the courtesy of the Canadian National Railway a few reels of motion pictures will be shown. Refreshments will be served. A welcome is extended to all Welsh people.

Following a formal opening in the County Court yesterday the action of Logan vs. Blume and others was stood over until June 15 for hearing. Edward and Edna Logan are bringing suit against Winnifred Blume and Rose Wilson for $500 damages for an alleged act of trespass. H. W. Davey appeared for the plaintiffs, and W. C. Moresby for the defendants.

Six hundred members of the Plymouth Girls' Club of Seattle spent a day here sightseeing yesterday. The club is associated with the Plymouth Congregational Church and is the second annual outing. Three hundred of the girls made the trip out to the Butchart Gardens by the Gray Line and enjoyed the beauties of the famous gardens.

The Rev. J. E. Purdie, B.D., principal of the Canadian Pentecostal Bible College, Winnipeg, will arrive in the city today to conduct a series of Bible lectures at the Pentecostal Auditorium, 1318 Broad Street. Mr. Purdie is a strong fundamentalist, having been an Anglican minister for many years. He is considered one of the greatest Bible expositors in Canada. The first lecture will be held to-night at 8 o'clock with meetings every night this week and two on Sunday.

Brigadier-General A. G. L. McNaughton, D.S.O., M.C., reviewed the Victoria High School cadets, 12th Battalion, in their twenty-fourth annual inspection yesterday. The boys performed their infantry drill, physical drill, boxing, fencing, signalling, first aid and musketry exercises at the High School grounds before an examining committee composed of Brig-General A. G. L. McNaughton, G.O.C., Military District No. 11; Mr. Dixon represented Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion; Mrs. Bigfield, Ladies' Auxiliary, Britannia Branch, and Mrs. I. Chambers, representing the Canadian Legion, First Patricia Branch. Many beautiful floral designs were received and carried on a special flower-carriage. The remains were conveyed on the gun carriage, draped with the Union Jack, in charge of Corporal Brady, and the firing party was in charge of Sergeant Watson of the P.C.I. of Work Point Barracks, which fired three volleys over the grave. Bugler Sergeant Bates sounded the "Last Post."

The pallbearers were Lieut.-Col. W. H. K. Anderson, Captain J. R. Frances, H. W. May, A. Stewart, E. Palmer and F. Y. Checkley.

"VICTORIA" BRAND BERRY MAKES BOW

Saanich Fruit Growers' Association Will Campaign on New Name

Prospects For Peninsula Crop Materially Improved By Rain

With a one-inch rainfall in most parts of Keating and Gordon Head districts in the last forty-eight hours, prospects for an improved strawberry crop have become considerably brighter, it was stated by President Tanner, of the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association, to-day.

"The rain came at a time when it was most needed, and will swell the berries," stated Mr. Tanner. "Next week the first local berries will be on the market, apart from a few crates shipped by an individual grower."

"This year we expect to ship a considerable tonnage to distant markets, and in this connection will make use of 35,000 labels bearing the name of the brand showing where the berries were grown. The labels will feature 'Victoria' brand strawberries, packed by the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association. We already have evidence of the demand for Island fruit."

EXPECT GOOD YEAR

"In spite of a bigger acreage of strawberries this year, the tonnage will not go much beyond that of last year. This is because of the wet weather of March and April, which did considerable damage. On the whole we are looking for a good year, and are greatly encouraged by the rains of the last few days," said Mr. Tanner.

Berry growers in Saanich now are making arrangements for the annual supply of fruit pickers. The strawberries will come in first, followed by the logans and then other small fruits. Many reservations are being made through the Employment Service of Canada, which has already 300 orders for pickers, with only 150 pickers registered so far.

Picking will commence generally some time next week, with berries leaving by carload lots shortly after the peak of the season has been reached.

PLAN CELEBRATION FOR DOMINION DAY

Plans for the July 1, Dominion Day, celebration in Victoria this year will be made at a meeting called for 8 p.m. Friday in the Sons of Canada Hall, 1221 Douglas Street, to-day by W. M. Ivel, chairman of the celebration organization.

Joseph Patrick, Sheriff H. W. Goggin and Reginald Hayward, M.P., are the finance committee in charge.

TWO HURT IN AUTO CRASH

W. J. McDowell and J. Rawnsley Resting Comfortably Following Accident

W. J. McDowell, 1424 Denman Street, and John Rawnsley, 2525 Scott Street, who were injured last night in an automobile accident on Hillside Avenue, were resting comfortably in the Jubilee Hospital to-day.

The former was driving his automobile west on Hillside Avenue, near Scott Street about 11:30 o'clock, and in attempting to pass another car driven in the same direction by L. Clark, 544 Dupplin Road, Mr. McDowell swerved his car partly into the ditch. It overturned three times, striking the motor driven by Mr. Clark.

Constable Arthur Bishop and Patrolman Wilkinson rushed to the scene and found Mr. McDowell suffering from concussion of the brain, while Mr. Rawnsley, who was a passenger in the car, had injuries about the head. Both men were taken to the Jubilee Hospital and attended by Dr. Gordon Kenning.

MME. EVA BAIRD SCORES TRIUMPH

Victoria Singer Accompanied By Composers at Paris Recital

Mme. Eva Baird, contralto, who left Victoria last year to fulfil a number of concert engagements in Paris and London, has been meeting with remarkable success in the French capital. She has appeared in a number of recitals jointly with other leading artists, sang over the Eiffel Tower radio, has given solos in a number of churches, and has sung with orchestras.

But perhaps her most notable triumph was scored in a recital given on May 10 at La Salle Chopin, Paris, when her very attractive programme included groups by three noted composers, the composer in each instance acting as accompanist for the group.

These numbers included "A la Sante," "Automne," and "Les Cloches," by Aristide Honegger, with Honneger at the piano; "Antony and Cleopatra," "Le Bachelier de Salamanca," and "Sara-bande," by Albert Roussel, with Roussel at the piano; "Triolette aux Jardins," "Les Bardes," and "Musique Sur l'Eau," by Florent Schmitt, with the composer at the piano. He other numbers included a group by de Falla, in Spanish; "Fugue," by Debussy, Strauss, Silberta and Horman.

The co-operation of the composers in Mrs. Baird's recital implies a wonderful tribute to her art, and her many admirers in Victoria will watch with keen interest her progress along the pathway of success in her chosen career.

PASSION PLAY HERE JUNE 12

Will Be Shown at Playhouse Theatre; Marvelous Piece of Picture Art

Gorgeous in scenery, practically flawless in photography, and wonderful in portrayal, the famous "Passion Play," which comes to the Playhouse Theatre on June 12 for a five-day engagement, is a triumph in the motion picture world.

A special screening of the picture this week at the Playhouse resulted in enthusiastic expressions from those who attended.

Events in the life of Christ are traced with the greatest effect of perfection in detail. The journey of Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem to enroll their names on the books of Julius Caesar is the opening scene, and then follows seven reels of gripping performance.

The raising of the dead, the transfiguration, healing the sick, the betrayal by Judas, the agonizing ordeal of the Cross, the crucifixion and the ascension are all achieved with wonderful reality.

The "Passion Play" is historically associated with the village of Oberammergau in Bavaria. In 1633, the inhabitants of this town were visited with a terrible plague, following which they made a vow to perform the "Passion Play" of the Saviour every tenth year. Thousands of tourists have visited Europe for the specific purpose of witnessing this pageant.

WHEN IS BLUEBIRD NOT A BLUEBIRD? BUREAU ASKS

"When Is a Bluebird Not a Bluebird?" is a question of moment at the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at present.

"When it is a seagull," seems to be the only reply, following a close inspection of the famous Victoria Bluebird stickers, carrying the city's motto, which are being distributed by the bureau.

These stickers can be found on automobiles and baggage all over the world, according to Frank Gilmour, publicity man of the bureau. In Australia, New Zealand, the Old Country, Eastern Canada, the United States and in several parts of Europe, they are bearing this well-known slogan. A letter was received by the bureau to-day from a man in Oakland, asking for a few more of them to replace some which had been washed off his car.

The argument over the type of bird represented on the sticker has been started through usage of the name "Bluebird." The bird was originally a seagull. But the stickers being colored an attractive blue, the other title has struck.

The bureau is considering taking out a patent on a new bird species.

FINANCIAL AID FOR I.O.F.E. HERE

B.C. Chapter Assisted By Grant From National Body

Toronto, May 31.—The report of the national finance committee of the I.O.F.E., presented by Mrs. J. U. Power, convenor, was enthusiastically received at the annual convention of the organization, which was held in the Hotel, Quebec and Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Marshall of Edmonton, stated that the duty of the provincial organization was to see that interest was kept alive in the order. This was being done in the western provinces.

Order speakers agreed that the time to deal with smaller chapters likely to be disbanded was when they had reached the stage of discouragement over inability to raise large sums of money. The meeting was in sympathy with every effort that could be put forward to hold together all chapters of all sizes in all parts of Canada.

OFFICERS NAMED BY ROTARIANS

Robert Smith Reviews Early Days in Panama Canal Zone

The Rotary Club elected the following officers for the coming year, at today's weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel: Rev. Mr. W. J. Bruce, John Clark, D. W. Evans, James Macfarlane, Cecil Rice, Walter Tuck and J. Percy Watson.

Herbert Anson was unanimously chosen president for 1928 at the last meeting of the club.

Impressions of the Panama Zone, in the early days of construction of the canal, were given by Robert Smith. He arrived at Colon, the Atlantic terminal, on Christmas Day, 1905, under contract as a sanitary engineer.

He told of dirty and unhealthy conditions then prevalent, and the speedy cleanup effected by the United States authorities. French assertions that every railroad tie had cost a life were low, he considered.

Mr. Smith recalled that he had been in Kingston, Jamaica, one day before that city was destroyed by earthquake. He had a poor opinion of the industry of the Panama natives, who would not work when they knew the next meal was assured.

While giving medical experts all credit due, Mr. Smith considered that sanitary engineers had been mainly responsible for the creation of livable conditions in the Canal Zone.

IS WELCOMED HOME

Wallace Terry was welcomed upon his return from a tour of Europe.

President Fletcher thanked Percy Watson and his committee for their work on the Rotary Club float which won first prize in its class in the Victoria Day parade.

Inauguration of the New Westminster Rotary Club next Thursday will be attended by a delegation of Victoria Rotarians.

Frank Sehl called attention to the concert to be given by the Westminster Glee singers at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-morrow and Saturday nights, under the auspices of the Gyro Club. He pointed out that the singers have earned an international reputation and that the Victoria Gyros have been consistently successful in sponsoring outstanding attractions.

ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE NAME NOW CHANGED

Duke of Connaught Advocate of New Title, Says Edward Salmon

"To conform more nearly to the modern conception of Empire relationships we have changed the name of The Colonial Institute to The Royal Empire Society. One of the strongest arguments for the change was the Duke of Connaught, our honorary president, who for years has been urging the dropping of the word 'Colonial' and the substitution of a title which would more adequately convey the idea of the commonwealth of nations within the Empire."

This interesting observation was made to The Times this morning by Edward Salmon of London, England, editor of The United Empire, the journal of the erstwhile Royal Colonial Institute. Mr. Salmon, on his tour throughout Canada has found evidence to convince him of the desirability of the change of name, a change which will in no way affect the traditions and policies of this world-famous organization.

Founded in 1868 to counteract the separatist tendencies of that time, the Royal Empire Society has always endeavored to spread a knowledge of the history, conditions and resources of the countries comprising the British Empire and the facilities their mutual intercourse and unity.

Proceedings of the society represent the deliberations of a learned body, and are so widely recognized as such that universities in Canada as well as other parts of the Empire, as well as the United States, include these reports in their libraries.

MOSCOW'S REQUEST

"One of the most recent applications for the reports of the society was from a body in Moscow, and if we could only get our reports of the Empire read more widely in Russia, there would be no need to worry about Bolshevism," observed Mr. Salmon.

On his first trip to Canada since 1912 when he was in Montreal and Quebec, Mr. Salmon is tremendously impressed with the progress of the Dominion and its vast potentialities, particularly in the West. He was particularly struck with the widespread use of electric power and current as even in the smallest hamlets, and made the observation: "If the power and brain power of the Dominion could be used as effectively and to such good purpose as the natural resources, Canada would become not only the greatest country in the British Empire, but in the world at large."

He commented on the immensity of Canada and deplored the fact that its population at present was only equivalent to that of London.

IMMIGRATION UNITS

For a number of years, Mr. Salmon said, he had cherished an idea for populating the waste spaces of Australia by taking out of the Old Country complete economic units, a community comprising "a butcher, a baker and a candlestick maker," and settling them on a tract of land purchased for the purpose by the British Government. Such a unit, in his opinion, would not be in economic competition with the rest of the country, and would form the nucleus of a valuable addition to the population. After seeing the vast unpopulated spaces available in Canada he believed such a scheme might be feasible here.

Mr. Salmon was the guest of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at Government House to-day and to-morrow will address the Canadian Club on "The Empire and the Work of the Royal Colonial Institute," at the Empress Hotel at 12:15.

CLAIMS ON HOME BANK ARE HEARD

Test Questions Are Considered in Hearing at Toronto

Toronto, May 31.—Charles Garrow, K.C., the official referee, commenced the hearing of a number of test questions regarding deposits in the defunct Home Bank that were made during the last few days of the bank's operations. Test cases are divided into three classes: (a) the creditors who made deposits between August 7 and 3 o'clock daylight saving time on August 17, 1923. (b) Creditors who made deposits between 3 o'clock daylight saving time and 2 o'clock standard time on August 17, and (c) deposits made after 3 o'clock standard time. Other claims are that the bank was known to be insolvent and that it was fraudulent to take deposits, which should be returned in full.

The first case was that of the United Gas and Fuel Company of Hamilton which had a balance of $299,416 in its account when the bank was closed.

DEPOSIT MADE

John C. Miller, cashier of the fuel company, said that on August 17, the day the bank closed, he had deposited $1,321. He made the deposit between 2:30 and 3 o'clock standard time.

Hamilton was on standard time and Toronto was on daylight saving time. Albert E. Calvert, assistant general manager of the Home Bank, said he was acting manager on August 7, 1923, that date he made a report to the directors emphasizing the seriousness of the situation showing about $1,250,000 of bad and doubtful debts and suggesting reservations to cover possible loss on a number of big loans detailed.

When the report was read there were present H. J. Daly, M. P. Gough, J. F. Stewart, D. G. Wood and F. J. Brussell.

"What happened when you were in the room?" "They were greatly surprised and shocked and said there were some loans they had not known about," said the witness.

POOLEY STARTS CAMPAIGN DRIVE

Esquimalt Member Confident; Hinchliffe Attacks Liberal Attitude on Labor

R. H. Pooley, Opposition Leader in the Legislature, yesterday started a series of campaign meetings in his constituency of Esquimalt. At a meeting in the Sallors' Club he predicted Conservative victory at the next provincial election. "I will continue to criticize the acts of the Government of the Province, as it is my duty to do as House Leader of the Opposition until election day, when I will not need to continue to do so," said Mr. Pooley. Joshua Hinchliffe, M.P.P. for Victoria, delivered a detailed attack on the Government and on Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt, for their attitude on labor and social legislation. He produced records of the Legislature to prove that Mrs. Smith had voted with the Government against many reforms introduced by labor members, and in other cases had not displayed sufficient interest to be in the House when votes on such proposals were taken. Mrs. S. B. Bowden presided at the meeting. Mrs. E. P. Gould, Mrs. Hayman, and Miss Phyllis Bennett and W. Anderson contributed a musical programme. Refreshments were served after the speeches.

ENCOURAGE HIGH GRADE POULTRY PENS

Record of Performance Birds Suggested to Head Flocks

The Department of Agriculture announces that the term "R.O.P." the popular title for the policy of the record of performance for poultry, has been copyrighted by the Dominion Live Stock Branch, from which office the policy is administered.

The purpose of copyrighting is to prevent the fraudulent use of the term in advertising. The widespread popularity and demand for record of performance poultry have made the move necessary for the protection of farmers and poultrymen desiring to secure R.O.P. stock.

Many commercial hatcheries are using R.O.P. males to head the flocks from which they secure eggs, and while the department is encouraging this practice, it also intends to insure that genuine R.O.P. stock is so used and advertised.

Definitions are at present being drafted defining the various classes of R.O.P. stock—females, males, chicks, pens, etc. These will be made public when adopted, and will be the official definitions under the discretionary power granted the Dominion Live Stock Branch through the copyright.

STOCK MARKETS FINANCIAL NEWS GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, May 31.—Wheat had a strong opening. Chicago did not follow the decline at Winnipeg in full, and Liverpool after a weak start moved up at the middle hour and closed a little higher.

Western weather is favorable to growing crops. There has been rain in all sections of the Spring wheat belt on this side except a fairly large area in southern Alberta and southwestern Saskatchewan, where it is still very dry.

While the crop news was inclined to be bearish there was some revival of export business. Sales of some 600,000 bushels were reported overnight and there was more doing this morning, but amounts were not disclosed.

The weather in Europe appears to be a little more favorable, but the French crop is estimated as probably below last year's production, and last estimates from India also show a considerable falling-off from last year's figures. It is unlikely that India will appear in the export field this season. Black Sea shipments were nil.

Port stocks on the continent are reported low, although Liverpool has good supply on hand. Continental supplies in merchants and millers' hands are small. A good demand from Europe is looked for until the new crop comes in. Wheat has been well liquidated and would quickly respond to any constructive news.

Coarse grains—There was seaboard demand for barley and some demand for oats from Montreal exporters, also a little export demand for rye. Flax was neglected. Taken all around there was enough of buying by the consuming interests to hold the distant markets fairly steady.

Cash markets—There was a fair demand for cash wheat from No. 4 down. No. 3 continues to be a drag on the market. Offerings were fair. There is good demand for all the feed grains and fair trade passing. All cash markets are now on a July basis.

CHAPTER XIII

Because of the unreasoning fear which had gripped her since she had discovered her fellow-passengers in the hotel bus whispering about her and acting as if they were sure they recognized her, Vee-Vee Cameron betrayed none of the delighted surprise with which she caught her first glimpse of Lake Minnetonka and the Minnetonka Hotel. Her chin was uplifted haughtily and her green eyes were serene, even bored, as the bus swung into the circular drive which led up to the magnificent entrance.

The hotel crouched almost on the edge of the big lake. A glass-enclosed pavilion led from one wing of the building to the bathing pier, so that the guests might dress for swimming in the privacy of their own rooms. The hotel itself was like an English castle of Tudor architecture, fashioned of great, rough grey stones, its innumerable turrets and towers decorated with narrow beams of dark stained wood. Ivy almost covered the walls.

Girls and men in canoes and rowboats called to one another across the echoing water; on the tennis court two men and two girls were playing a swift game, their laughter floating invitingly toward the new arrivals.

"My home for two weeks!" Vera told herself, tingling with the thrill of adventure.

"I have a room with bath reserved for to-day," Vera said in the aloof voice which covered timidity, when she faced the hotel clerk across the register.

The young man smiled as he cocked his head to watch her write her name. "Miss V. V. Cameron? Yes, we have your wire, Miss Cameron. I hope you will enjoy your visit, Miss Cameron. Pretty warm in the city, isn't it? New York is all right in the Spring and the Fall, but give me the country in the Summer-time."

"Thank you, I'm sure I shall enjoy Minnetonka," Vee-Vee answered briefly. "Show Miss Cameron to room 618, Dick," the affable clerk directed the bellboy.

Vee-Vee had turned away to follow the boy, when it occurred to her to ask the clerk the closing hours for New York-bound mail. She stepped toward the desk again, but resisted when she saw that the young couple who had so closely observed her in the bus were at the desk, the woman leaning forward to whisper confidentially to the clerk, who was listening with amusement. When he raised his eyes, undoubtedly to stare after Vera, and saw her coming toward him again, he flushed as if he had been caught in an indiscretion.

Vee-Vee resisted a strong impulse to run away—anywhere. Instead, she raised her chin haughtily, waited until the embarrassed young couple had turned away, then put her question coolly.

"Mail leaves for New York at nine in the morning, at one in the afternoon and at eight in the evening," the clerk informed her hastily. "And—Miss—er—Cameron, if you don't like your room, would prefer a suite, perhaps, I'm sure it could be arranged."

Vee-Vee wondered why he spoke so eagerly, with almost servile deference.

"Thank you, I shall let you know if I desire to change," she said coolly. As she followed the boy down the long, richly furnished lobby toward the elevators she felt horribly conspicuous and alone. When she had tipped him and closed the door of her room, she was seized with a violent fit of trembling. She stood clutching the edge of the dressing table, staring at herself with fear-widened green eyes.

"Why are they watching me like that?" she whispered with cold lips. "Do I look like a thief or—or an impostor? And why did that clerk's manner change so toward me? Maybe it's because I look as if I were a millionaire's daughter, as Jerry said. Oh, I'm foolish to worry! Maybe this is just a gossip sort of Summer hotel where everybody speculates on everybody else and tries to find out everyone's business. Well—they won't learn much about Miss V. V. Cameron!" she nodded to her reflection with a wicked little smile.

She lifted off her hat, hung it in the deep, electrically lighter closet, and started a tour of inspection of her small domain—her own apartment for the next two weeks. It was not a large room, but it was so exquisitely decorated and furnished that Vera drew a deep breath of thrilled wonder. In all her repressed, unhappy, penny-pinching life she had never seen a room to compare with it. The walls were covered with a French gray tapestry wallpaper. It was a corner room, overlooking the lake. The wide, deep windows were hung with jade green taffeta, looped back to show gauze-thin gold silk inner curtains.

"Even if I don't find Schuyler, it will be worth it all to live for two weeks in a hotel like this and a room like this," she told herself happily.

She was lifting her heavy suitcase to the little slatted stand to unpack it when a knock came at the door. She opened it to find a porter and a white-uniformed maid outside.

"Your trunks have come, Miss, and the housekeeper said she had orders from the office for me to help you unpack," the maid told her, bobbing her head in a quaint bow.

Vee-Vee was surprised, but the maid would never have guessed it. Was such service included in the room rates, she wondered. Or would she have to pay extra?

The porter wheeled the trunks into the room, deposited them, upright, in the big closet, grunted her thanks for the fifty-cent tip she gave him, and left the maid to her work.

"The dining-room's open for lunch now, Miss," the maid came out of the closet with her arms full of Vee-Vee's new dresses. "I don't suppose you will want to change for lunch, will you, Miss? They usually don't, not when they come on the noon train. And you look lovely, Miss, if you don't mind me saying so."

Vee-Vee was wearing the suit which had been her first purchase after her transformation from a plain girl into a beauty. She had saved it for the trip, knowing that she could not find a more appropriate costume for summer traveling. She stopped only to run a comb through the sculptured, flat waves of her hair, and to fluff a powder puff over her cheeks, and to touch up her beautiful mouth with the geranium lip which Pease Bloom's chemist had concocted especially for her.

"Yes, Miss, you sure do look beautiful," the maid went on, in an admiring but deferential voice. "Much prettier than your pictures, if you don't mind me saying so."

"My pictures?" Vee-Vee exclaimed, her voice sounding angry and arrogant in her surprise. "What do you mean?"

"There, now! I wasn't to mention a word, Miss, seeing as how you don't want folks to know or you wouldn't be using another name—excuse me, Miss, will you? And don't breathe a word of what I said to the office or the housekeeper, Miss, or I'll be fired sure!"

Vee-Vee checked the startled stream of question that tried to force their way out of her suddenly cold lips. Whatever this mystery was, she was certainly not going to let it get the best of her. Who would only be getting into trouble if she did talk.

One thing was evident, she told herself. "If I think you're terrible smart, Unkie," grunted Squinkle Winkle, who was safe in the pen house.

"Thanks," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Sometimes I don't think so myself." Then he hopped along to have another adventure.

"I hope I have a real exciting one this time," said Mr. Longears.

"You may meet two Bad Chaps instead of one," squeaked Nurse-Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy at the hollow stump bungalow, where the bunny uncle stopped to get a cup of tea. "Then what would you do?"

"If I met two of the Bad Chaps, like the Skilley Scallier Alligator and the Pipsawah, I'd give each one of them a hard puzzle to do, and while they were trying to think of the answers I'd hop away."

"I hope it works out that way," said Nurse-Jane.

"I'll take some paper and a pencil in my pocket in case I have to draw puzzle pictures," said Mr. Longears.

So away he hopped over the fields and through the woods and pretty soon, down in a meadow he saw Jingle and Jangle, two of his little bunny girls, gathering daisies and buttercups, unmarked eyebrows. She had gathered that much from Jerry's and Kitty's excited, laughing comments.

"Who in the world am I?" Vee-Vee asked herself, helplessly, as she was being conducted to a table. Was that what Jerry had warned her about in this mysterious letter—that she would be mistaken for another girl?

And then in an instant all conjecture was for the moment wiped out of her mind. For she was looking into the dark, brilliant eyes of the man of the elevator—the man with whom she had fallen in love at sight, the man who had looked through her as if she were nonexistent. She had found Schuyler! And his eyes were looking into hers with startled, glad surprise.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Decoration Day

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time, as I told you in the story last night, Uncle Wiggily saw Squinkle Winkle, a little lost pig, standing in front of a sign board, thinking it would tell him the way to get home. But just then the Bob Cat, who had been chasing Squinkle Winkle, popped out of the bushes and was going to bite the little pig. Only Uncle Wiggily said:

"Unless you tell me the longest word on that sign, not a nibble or a nibble shall you have!" The sign said:

FAR AWAY BIG SMILES ARE LONGEST

"Ha! Ha!" chuckled the Bob Cat. "This is easy. Longest is the longest word!"

"Wrong!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Smiles is the longest word, for there is a mile between the first and last letters!"

The Bob Cat was so surprised at this old puzzle (for it is old) that he didn't know what to say. So, while the Bad Chap was still in front of the sign,

"How dare you pick my flowers?"

Trying to see the joke, Uncle Wiggily took little Squinkle Winkle by the paw and ran home with the little lost pig. "I think you're terrible smart, Unkie," grunted Squinkle Winkle when he was safe in the pen house.

"Thanks," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Sometimes I don't think so myself." Then he hopped along to have another adventure.

"I hope I have a real exciting one this time," said Mr. Longears.

"You may meet two Bad Chaps instead of one," squeaked Nurse-Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy at the hollow stump bungalow, where the bunny uncle stopped to get a cup of tea. "Then what would you do?"

DIGGING FOR OIL

In the days when wells were drilled for salt water it was found that by exploding powder at the bottom of the well sometimes more brine could be obtained. The same experiment was tried with oil wells and was found often successful. Here we see men pouring nitroglycerine into a cylinder which is carefully let down to the bottom of the well and exploded by dropping a weight.

By REA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers, of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-25.

When digging for coal a great hole has to be dug. Oil drillers, however run a tiny hole down into the grimy depths.

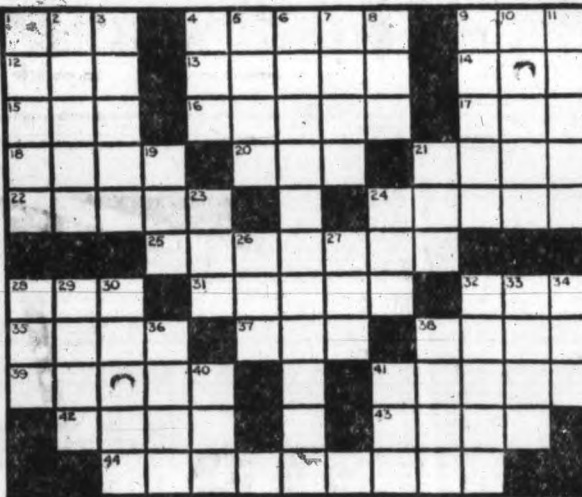

A great wooden pyramid called a derrick is erected, 60 to 100 feet high, to support the machinery necessary for drilling.

The bit works like the familiar carpenter's tool, biting its way through the rock. The hole made by the bit is lined with iron pipe from the surface to the porous layer containing the oil. Here a gusher is shown just after it was brought in. It is the famous Lakeview Gusher of California that shot up 300 feet into the air.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1928

Astrologers read this as a threatening day in planetary government and counsel caution in all important matters. The day may incline both men and women to take a pessimistic view of financial matters, therefore they should avoid facing debts until a better rule prevails. Writers and especially those who contribute to news—ers should beware of the temptation to exaggerate.

Libel suits and other litigation growing out of personal criticism appear to be preaged by the stars. Political battles of words will rage with peculiar force while this way continues. Under this direction of the stars the mind may be peculiarly susceptible to sinister suggestions and inclined to harbor campaign lies.

All through the month it will be wise to guard the tongue as well as the ears, for scandals will be widely disseminated. There is an aspect that is believed to cause men and women to be critical of one another's creed. Liberty of thought and toleration of dissenting opinions may be less prevalent than at other times.

Newspapers appear to be subject to sinister planetary influences inclining toward venality and bitter enmities. Persons whose birthdate it is should avoid litigations and beware of domestic troubles in the coming year. Children born on this day probably will be endowed with keen mentality and ready wit. DIVORCE WORRIES DOLORES DEL RIO

Hollywood, Cal., May 31.—How will the news of her divorce be greeted by her thousands of Catholic followers? That is the thing that is bothering Dolores Del Rio, the Mexican screen star, who has just returned to the United States after a tour in Mexico, to file her suit for divorce from her husband, Jaime Del Rio.

The actress, whose rise in the film world has been little short of sensational, practically admitted that she would have taken this step for a permanent separation some time ago had it not been for the fear of her standing among those of her faith.

"However, since I have no intention of ever marrying again, I feel that I have not violated a single law of the church," says Miss Del Rio. "The laws of our church say nothing about divorce. They merely state that a divorced person shall not marry."

On April 11, 1921, Dolores Asunolo, then only fifteen years old, and fresh from a convent where she had spent most of her early life, became Mrs. Jaime Del Rio. Both were members of prominent Mexican families. Two and a half years ago Dolores and her husband came to Hollywood and the Mexican beauty embarked upon her cinema career, guided by Edwin Carewe. For a while things moved along very smoothly. Then the breach started as breaches will start in celluloid families. The break came shortly before Christmas of last year when Del Rio departed for New York. He has not returned.

"Our divorce is due solely to lack of compatibility between us," declares Dolores. "We had hoped that a separation would end our difficulties, but it failed, so we are following the only course left—a divorce."

PLAN SEPARATE CAREERS
—We have absolutely no thought of remarriage and feel confident that Jaime is of the same opinion. We both have our careers, mine on the screen and his in the literary world, and we feel that we could pursue them to better advantage separately."

Dolores' career really was the start of the trouble. Until they came to the movie village, Jaime was the absolute head of the family. In Hollywood things were reversed. He became merely Dolores Del Rio's husband. He stood it as long as he could and then left.

Westminster Glee Singers Are Encored
Toronto Audiences Give Great Ovation to Touring Party

In the following words Lawrence Mason, musical critic of The Toronto Globe, has this to say about the Westminster Glee Singers the day after their wonderful reception and crowded house at the Massey Hall, Toronto:

"The Westminster Glee Singers gave one of their delightful and thoroughly enjoyable concert last night, and were so enthusiastically applauded, that after every number on the programme had been encored, there was still an insistent demand for more. A more enthusiastic audience would be hard to imagine. The programme was entirely English, remarkably varied, ranging from serious works by Arne and Purcell, to popular items by Halton and Frivolous bits by Drummond."

"The six boys and eight men making up the personnel of these singers grouped themselves picturesquely on the stage, sitting or standing in a different stage setting for each song. Chorus by the men alone, the boys alone, or both together, part songs, madrigals, solos with piano or choral accompaniment, quartettes, glees, folk songs, comic ditties, sailor chants—this rich repertoire made the evening unusually interesting and delightful."

"The falsetto singing by the male alto is unfamiliar in Canada, but was warmly applauded last night. No one who likes a dash of good fun with his artistic pleasure in a 'bracing' British atmosphere can afford to miss these capital Old Country singers."

The Gyro Club are sponsoring the appearance here of the Westminster Glee Singers.

Two concerts of entirely different programmes will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The box office is now open.

AT THE THEATRES

MARCELINE DAY IN LEADING ROLE IN COLUMBIA STORY

If you hear that Marceline Day has forsaken the motion picture screen to become a nurse you can credit it all to vanity.

Marceline plays the leading feminine role of "Under the Black Eagle," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture now playing at the Columbia Theatre, and during most of the production, wears the costume of a war nurse.

She declares she has never had a more becoming dress and that she is going to pattern many of her new frocks along the same line. "There has been such a trend towards feminine styles lately," says Miss Day, "that the tailored starchiness of the nurse's costume is a relief. 'Under the Black Eagle' brings to the screen Flash, a new police dog star."

LOVE, ROMANCE AND EDUCATION BLENDED IN VARIETY FILM

Motion pictures for the most part are made for entertainment purposes. Once in a while a picture is made for scientific reasons, but rarely is a feature made which combines both entertainment and scientific education.

An exception to the rule is "The Lost World," the First National-Warner R. Rothacker production which is proving so popular at the Variety Theatre.

Love, romance, adventure as well as education are embodied in the amazing film. Professors of Columbia and the University of California who saw the picture in the making declare that the greatest thing that has ever occurred to bring about a popular interest in archaeology was the production of this remarkable film.

SPLENDID CAST IN PLAYHOUSE PICTURE OF "MILLIONAIRES"

Louise Fazenda appears as a ravishing brunette in Warner Bros. production of "Millionaires," now at the Playhouse Theatre, in which she is featured with George Sidney and Vera Gordon. Helen Costello, Nat Carr, Jane Wilson and Arthur Lash are in the excellent supporting cast.

Those to whom the name of Louise Fazenda conjures up a blonde pig-tailed hoyden or a blonde fuzzy-haired funster is established in store for their in "Millionaires." Miss Fazenda brings to the role of Reba, stylish, snobbish and shrewd, more than her usual talent for broad and subtle comedy.

ESTHER RALSTON IN "LOVE AND LEARN" AT COLISEUM THIS WEEK

Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation has succeeded in making another hit in their production of "Love and Learn" in which Esther Ralston is starred. The picture is at the Coliseum Theatre to-day.

Miss Ralston has had an interesting career in motion pictures. She was "discovered" in the famous picture, "Peter Pan," which won her supporting parts to various screen stars. Her popularity was established in "The Quarterback" in which she played opposite Richard Dix. "Old Ironsides," Paramount's epic of the famous old naval vessel, "Children of Divorce" in which she was co-starred with Clara Bow.

GLORIA SWANSON AT HER BEST IN DOMINION PICTURE

James A. Marcus, who has the interesting characterization of trader "Joe Horn" in Gloria Swanson's "Sadie Thompson," at the Dominion Theatre, built his screen success upon a foundation of long theatrical experience.

Born in New York City, Marcus went through the grade schools but left high school to become property boy with Shook and Collier's "Lights o' London." He then went to Harry Miner's Eighth Avenue Theatre as property man and soon began playing in sketches. He joined Charles L. Davis 1822 in "The Country Fair." "The Devil's Daughter," "Puritania," with Pauline Hall, and with Fay Templeton in a repertoire of operas.

ENGLISH MUSICAL REVUE IN CANADA NEXT SEPTEMBER

Messrs. Lang & O'Neill announce that George Robey will open his Canadian tour early in September at His Majesty's Theatre, Montreal, in his revue, "Bits and Pieces," which has just terminated a six months' run at the Princes Theatre, London.

On the return trip from the coast he will present his new revue, "Between Ourselves," in which he is just starting a provincial tour in England.

FAMOUS RADIO STARS NOW AT DOMINION

On the stage at the Dominion this week the management have been very fortunate in securing a welcome return engagement of the two famous radio stars from KOMO—Sidney Dixon and G. Donald Gray. These artists are appearing twice daily, and are being received by the theatre houses in magnificent style. Patrons wishing one of these fine soloists to sing some favorite number, are advised to leave the name of the number with the management at the theatre box office, where it will be forwarded to them.

A detour is defined at the longest and roughest distance between two points.
